Trojans Notch Three League Wins In Week

The Clarenceville Trojans got off to a fine start in Wayne-Oakland League baseball play by chalking up three wins in their first three conference contests.

The Trojan diamond nine opened league play last Tuesday, April 23, with a 6-1 victory over Holly. The superb pitching of Leland Turnbull who allowed only two hits and gave up no walks.

A throwing error in the fourth inning gave Holly their only run. Dale Devitt, C.H.S. first baseman, collected two hits to lead the Trojans at bat.

In their second conference contest on Thursday, the Trojans humbled a much weaker Bloomfield Team, 12-1. Cliff Wellman hurled a no-hitter for the Trojans and fanned 13 of the batters to face him.

Wellman proved the star in the Trojans third contest as well, belting out a hit to score Clarenceville's winning run in their 5-4 victory over West Bloomfield, 1-1, Tuesday at West Bloomfield.

Turnbull pitched the game and took credit for the victory which was won by his pitching mate who proved strong at bat in the clinch.

A TROJAN runner is shown above howling over the Bloomfield Hills catcher as he comes in with one of Clarenceville's many runs in their easy 12-1 victory over the weaker Bloomfield team. Shaken up slightly, the catcher was removed from the game. Trojans batters pounded two Bloomfield hurlers badly while Cliff Wellman was turning in a brilliant no-hit performance for C.H.S.

F.H.S. Thineclads Win Only One Place In Relay

Rain and a wet track were the dominant factors at the Central Michigan Relays in Mt. Pleasant last Saturday.

Farmington's only point was a 5-4 win by Rex Cawley in the high hurdles. Cawley placed fifth.

The relay team, composed of T. Kosty, B. Brewbaker, A. LeSage and M. Agee, placed sixth.

The 880 relay team, T. Kosty, Agee, took another sixth.

Others competing from F.H.S. were: Mike Agee and Davey Nichols, broad jump; Mike Walker, hurdles; and Jim Marsh, mile.

Country Club Honor J. Johnson At Sports Dinner

A special tribute was paid to professional golfer Jimmy Johnson last Thursday evening by members of the Farmington Country Club at the club's first Annual Sportsman's Stag Dinner.

Johnson, golf-pro for the Farmington Country Club, was honored by its members for his accomplishments in winning the 1956 Michigan PGA championship and distinguishing the club in its first season of operation.

He was presented with a gold inscribed plaque naming him as local sportsman of the year.

Warren Orlick, president of the State PGA, Clifford L. Rugg, president of the Detroit District Golf Association; Roy Iceberg, president of the Michigan Public Golf Links Association, in attendance at the banquet, all paid tribute to Johnson for his accomplishments.

They also complimented members of the Country Club for their many achievements since the formation of the new club.

Also present to honor Johnson were other golfing notables including Walter Burkemo and Horton Smith. They spoke highly not only of his achievement in winning the PGA championship but also of his work at the new Farmington Country Club golf course.

Located at 12 Mile and Haggerty Road, the Farmington Country Club is the only new golf course to be constructed in the last 25 years in the Detroit area. Conceived and planned by Dr. Karl L. Swift, the country club became a reality through the efforts of charter members assisted by Johnson following Dr. Swift's death.

An old barn has now been transformed into a beautiful new club house and work is nearly completed on the 18 hole golf course adjacent to it.

Falcons Edged By Bluejays 3-2

Despite the three-hit pitching of Roy Temple, the Falcons fell victim to the Southfield Jays last Friday, 3-2.

The Falcons drew first blood in the fourth inning, as Dave Catherman started off with a single, Bob Ulley drew a base on balls, and Harvey Chapman hit a single to drive in a run. Larry Lynch came through with another single to make it 2-0, Farmington.

Southfield struck back in the sixth inning, pushing across two runs on a combination of one hit, two errors, two bases on balls, and two wild pitches.

In the first half of the seventh inning the Falcons failed to score. The Jays however came through with the winning run on a base on balls followed by a hit. J.P.M.

About as many deaths or injuries from firearms occur during spring and summer months as during the fall hunting season, according to authorities.

Reason: The majority of firearms mishaps occurs not in the field, but in and around the home. More than one-fourth of all firearms deaths occur in children under 14.

Kenny Lane To Battle Baby Vasquez In Bout At Olympia Stadium May 22

Colorful Kenny Lane, the sensational Muskegon southpaw who is ranked No. 1 contender for the lightweight title, will risk his future against Baby Vasquez in the next fight card at Olympia Stadium Wednesday, May 22.

In the last two years Lane has taken on all comers and has compiled an extremely impressive record.

Since he moved in boxing's big time he has engaged in 22 bouts, most of them against highly regarded foes, and he has been beaten only twice.

Perhaps the brightest win on Lane's record was his masterful conquest of Orlando Zuleta, the Cuban veteran who is now rated fourth among the contenders. Lane has also punched his way to shining victories over such competent fist men as Glen Haganagan, Frankie Ryff, Larry Boardman, Enrique Esqueda, Elmer Lakatos, and Danny Jo Perez.

Vasquez, a bombshell from south of the border, has held the Mexican lightweight title since he dethroned Raul Esqueda late in 1954. He has done much of his fighting in Mexico where his burr-saw style and his fiery courage have made him a national sports idol.

He has whipped a long list of standard lightweight contenders, including Baby Ortiz, Bobby Gardenas, Sal Rivera, Armando Lopez, Chico Martinez, Manuel Perdomo, Don Bowman and Santiago Gonzalez.
