

A plastic party held in Neighborhood Church Tuesday morning, April 30, proved a friendly get-together of a fair-sized group of neighbors. Breakfast consisting of coffee and assorted coffee cakes. Each lady received a useful souvenir. Mrs. Forrest Ault carried home first prize.

Alta Loma Sub Happenings

Dolly Williams
GR. 4-1507

Mrs. Alfred E. Song of 34038 Alta Loma Drive gave a farewell luncheon on Saturday, April 27, in honor of her sister, Mrs. William H. Conrad of Miami, Florida, who has been visiting here.

Mrs. Conrad flew home May 1. While here, Mrs. Conrad also visited with Mr. Conrad's parents, the Lees J. Conrads of Pontiac Trail in Walled Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman D. Coon of Livonia, parents of Mrs. James E. Williams of Moore Drive, returned home from a three month trip to the south last week.

A welcome is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Mary McNeely and their two children, Douglas and Jane, who recently moved into their new home at 33791 Hamlin Court.

Mr. McNeely is the well known disc jockey on WJR radio station. The McNeelys are originally from Cleveland.

A welcome is also extended to Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Speaker who recently moved into their new home at 33920 Moore Drive. The Speakers are formerly from Detroit.

The Loren Jenks of Alta Loma Drive visited with friends in Washington, D. C. last week.

Mrs. King Gates of Moore Drive is back home following a recent operation.

Bob Soos, of the U.S. Air Force, and his wife and child, after visiting a week with relatives in Lansing, spent two days of this past week with Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Soos of Shadydale Avenue before returning to Texas.

Complete Preparations For Staging Of "Two Blind Mice," May 10, 11, 13, 17

Two matronly women who diligently file herbs and seeds in a government office that had been long since abolished, are the principal characters in "Two Blind Mice," a comedy to be presented by the Farmington Players May 10, 11, 17 and 18 in the Junior High Auditorium.

The roles of the doting and laughably conscientious ladies in Samuel Spewack's Broadway production will be played by Lillian Richards and Martha Weber. Hope Nahstoll is the director of the comedy.

In scenes recalling "Arsenic and Old Lace," the two elderly clerks work serenely in the midst of the confusion created when government agents are sent to investigate their activity in the supposedly closed bureau.

Through the ingenuity of a local newspaper reporter, played by Max Milford, the ladies keep their jobs. He tells investigating agents they are engaged in a top-secret project called "Herbal Warfare," that is as important to the country as the bomb.

The laughs mount when the fast-thinking newsman tells top brass of the armed services, as well as several suspicious senators, that this is a project that may effect the future of the world. Palmer Bissel, Harry Farmer, John Courville and Charles Hannan play the military brass. Alan Thayer is an enraged senator, Sue Moe the reporters' wife, James Cavanaugh is the suitor and Edith Stone is the giddy rumba teacher. Others in the laugh-producing cast are: Leonard Stone, George Nahstoll, Fred Hamilton, Robert Stone, Mary Ann Perry, Don Briggs, Franklin Sullivan and Richard Hickson.

The Don Briggs designed set of a Georgetown mansion drawing room serves as background for the comedy.

FROZEN FOOD INDUSTRY INCREASING VERY RAPIDLY

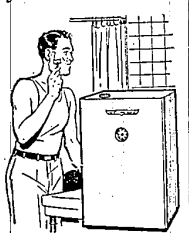

The frozen food industry is increasing by leaps and bounds, personnel in the food business indicate. Since 1946, frozen food production has increased 4 1/2 times. Consumer Marketing Information agents state that frozen orange juice has accounted for more than half this growth, for in 1946 about 60 per cent of the crop was shipped in the fresh form and this has completely reversed to 30 per cent being handled fresh, and the remaining 70 per cent being sold to us either frozen or canned. Prepared frozen foods, such as French fried potatoes, poultry and meat pot pies, fish sticks and dessert pies have also accounted for a large percentage of the rapid growth, they indicate.

SOFT WATER

by FAIRBANKS-MORSE

Soft water means gentler shaves!

You get pull-less shaves when soft water makes lather creamier, more penetrating—the kind of water you get in abundance when you have a FAIRBANKS-MORSE Automatic Water Softener. F-M softeners regenerate automatically. All you do is add salt occasionally. Model FA-100 has recovery capacity of 250,000 grains—enough for a family of 4 or 5—for baths, shampoos, laundry, cleaning and kitchen chores. Save money, too. Let us show you how easy it is to own an F-M automatic softener now!
