Goodwill Collections
Made Only On Request

Goodwill Industries' method of collecting discarded was cited recently by Harold H. McKinnon, executive secretary, as one of the top reasons why Detroit Goodwill Industries has grown to be the largest employer of handicapped people in Michigan.

"Goodwill does not canvass house-to-house, but only answers a pick-up call from the householder," said McKinnon. "This means that when a Goodwill truck driver calls he is expected by the housewife, and she is assured that the driver is from Goodwill Industries and not an impostor."

The reputation, ability, and courtesy of Goodwill truck drivers has also been commended by civic leaders, including William P. Thorpe, President of Michigan Carriage Association.

Announce New Process

This new process is known as the Fur Frost Method. Heavy blue coats of Orlone, Borgana, Cloud No. 9, or Glenora can now be safely cleaned and restored to their original beauty, a spokesman for Pride Cleaners said. The method used has been tested and endorsed by the largest manufacturer of orlon-dynel fabrics, he added.
