

Tulips Blooming At Cranbrook

It's tulip time at Cranbrook! Over three thousand of these state flowers are now blooming in the Gardens and Park of Cranbrook House.

Visitors may tour the Gardens daily, except Mondays, from 2 until 5 p.m. A small admission charge is made to benefit the scholarship fund of Kingswood School, Cranbrook.

The tulip-filled area is part of the 40 acres surrounding Cranbrook House. May visitors to the Gardens will also see flowering shrubs, imported statuary, and a full acre of late blooming daffodils.

We enjoyed some color oil for the first time in our life the other day. Made into a filmy, synthetic fabric, it appeared in the form of neckties worn by some pretty models.

Goodwill Industries of Detroit are scheduled to make their next collection of household discards in this area on Monday and Tuesday, May 27 and 28.

In the Franklin district collection is due on Tuesday. However, it is hoped contributors will be patient, since, at this season of the year when everyone is housecleaning, the truck cannot reach all places on schedule, even though material is so greatly needed.

You are requested to call GR 4-4294 to arrange for a pick up.

A Texas cattlemen's association unanimously opposes a proposal to substantially increase truck load limits on Texas roads, on the grounds that the roads were designed primarily for use by private citizens and for bringing the products of farms and ranches to market. Heavy trucks, it adds, have done great damage to some highways.
