Local Talent
Auditions Set
For Music Circle

Teenagers and young adults, 16 years of age and older living in the northwest area, who are interested in the theatre, are invited to audition at the Music Circle theatre, on the grounds of the Bedford Inn, Grand River at 8 Mile Road, on Friday, June 7. The Music Circle will be presenting Broadway musical comedies from June 17 to September 1, featuring stars of Broadway and television. There is an excellent chance for young people from this area to serve as apprentices with an outstanding professional company for the entire summer, officials of the group said.

Music Circle will open on June 17 with the musical "Plain and Fancy." This is the delightful musical that ran for almost a year on Broadway to packed houses. It is based on the quaint customs of the Amish in Pennsylvania Dutch country. John Meade, known nationally as the beautiful sales girl on the "Ed Bradley Show" and star of Broadway and television plays, will be featured along with Jon Cypher, who will be remembered for his portrayal of Prince Charming in the recent television spectacular, "Cinderella." Music Circle is also interested in young people to act as ushers. For further information on the auditions and on the usher work, call Mr. Poons at Greenleaf 4-3300.

Visiting Nurses
Take Field Trips

Two recent field trips by the Farmington Visiting Nurse Committee were made to Lafayette Clinic in Detroit and Eagle School in Farmington.

Staff members of Lafayette Clinic explained and demonstrated the clinic's educational and research work with the mentally handicapped. The clinic is maintained by the state and functions as a hospital, training ground for psychiatrists and a research study center for mental disorders.

At Eagle School the committee members observed class sessions for handicapped children and physical therapy work with students who have suffered crippling diseases. Margaret Culler, school principal, conducted the group and explained facilities.

Members of the committee also assisted in manning the Visiting Nurse Association booth at the Health Fair held at Northland on May 23, 24 and 25.

Gives Suggestions
On Selecting
Modern Furniture

Selecting good modern furniture takes time and thought. Mary Shipley, home furnishings instructor at Michigan State University, lists the important things you should find in good modern furniture.

All modern furniture should function or work for the individual. Its first function is comfort. Comfort means the right size or fit for the family. The job of furniture is to provide a comfortable height, width or depth. New materials, such as foam rubber, fiberglass, and plastics, are used to increase comfort and easy care.

"Quality is another important consideration and includes not only the quality of the materials but the design of the piece itself. Good modern furniture is decorated only to enhance the structure, never to cover poor structure.

Lightness applies to size, shape, weight and color. Because new homes are more open, furniture should follow suit. It should be open, lightweight or easy to move and light in mass to fit the space it occupies. One of the biggest mistakes made in selecting furniture is buying pieces too large for the size of rooms. A chair does not need to be large and bulky to be comfortable and useful. Slender steel legs can support more weight than even large wooden ones.

Texture is used in modern furniture to express different moods. Rough, tweedy textures suggest casual informality; while sleek, rich smooth ones depict a more formal way of life.

Modern furniture should reflect the individual's way of living. It should be flexible enough to be used in several different circumstances, or changed with accessories. Unplastered pieces should be easily repolished or recovered.

When shopping for new furniture, keep these ideas in mind and make sure the home doesn't "wear bustle" with out-dated, non-functional furnishings.

First Group Of Children's Hospital
Nurses Complete In-Service Course

Twenty-five attendant nurses graduated from an eight-week hospital orientation course at Farmington Children's Hospital, May 25. Coffee was served to the group meeting together for its final session with Dr. Frank Campbell, director of Wayne State University's Off Campus Program.

Dr. Campbell has conducted at least eight sessions on the past eight Thursdays during which new hospital members of the hospital staff attended class on their own time. Subject matter has covered a wide range of subjects, from mental hygiene practices in working with retarded children, to developing healthy relationships with children, parents and co-workers.

Form Foundation
For Emotionally
Disturbed Youths

A non-profit corporation known as the Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children has been formed by a group of interested citizens to assist the Child Psychiatry Program at Pontiac State Hospital.

The Foundation intends to solicit funds and gifts so as to provide needed additional training for school teachers, transportation and recreational facilities and other items which the State Mental Health Board is unable to provide. The Board of Trustees of the Foundation includes Dr. James M. McHugh, Child Psychiatrist and Director of the Child Psychiatry Program at Pontiac State Hospital, Mrs. Edward E. Wilson, Raymond D. Danto, and John C. Emery Jr. all of Birmingham. Mrs. Wilson was elected President of the Foundation.

Named to serve on the Advisory Committee of the Foundation were: Kenneth L. Raymond, Mrs. B. R. Wilson, Miss Marjorie Bartles, Miss Margaret L. Demberger, Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Jerry Poorman, of Pontiac; Miss Arlene Newcomb, Miss Betty Decker and Mrs. Frank Jolisky, of Drayton Plains; Herman A. Dobson of Farmington; Mr. H. C. Wildebrand, Fred James, Carl Armstrong and Thomas Mark.

Mrs. Wilson stated that the principal objective of the Foundation was to expedite the return to normal living of the emotionally disturbed children. At the present time, Mrs. Wilson said, there are 55 boys and girls between the ages of six and seventeen in the Hospital. She stated that considerable progress had been made in the children's program in the Hospital under the able direction of Dr. McHugh, but that the gap between the requirements of the program and the State funds provided was widening rapidly. It will be the function of the Foundation to seek aid and assistance from private citizens in meeting this critical problem of mental health in children.

Pre-Planning
Fix-Up Activities
Cuts Injuries

Too much haste in home fix it and repair activities, not only results in waste of materials but also a lot of unnecessary accidents as well.

It is estimated that unnecessary hurrying and impatience is a contributing factor in at least 65 per cent of all disabling home injuries, and particularly those injuries which stem from carpentry, painting, cleaning, and similar jobs.

A big reason why people work feverishly at these repair activities is because they let the chores pile up, then try to do too many best ways of keeping off the home casualty list (there are more than 3,500,000 yearly) is to let home and household jobs wait ahead.

Such pre-planning has these advantages:

- (1) All needed tools and materials can be anticipated.
- (2) Special problems are anticipated in advance. Time is saved.
- (3) Better correlation of jobs which should be done simultaneously.
- (4) Weather changes need not result in wasted time — work outside in fair weather — inside when wet.
- (5) Planning ahead means more freedom to concentrate on each job as it comes up. This means fewer chances of accidents and injuries.

Plans Continue
On New Hospital

Plans continue to move forward for the construction of the new St. Mary's Hospital in the vicinity of Mayhew College off Five Mile Road.

The Hospital which will serve the entire area, including residents of Farmington, will be managed and operated by the Felician Sisters.

In a recent article regarding a meeting on water supply, sanitation, storm sewers and roads in the vicinity of the dates tentatively set for progress on the new hospital were erroneously reported.

Working drawings have already been started on the building with completion scheduled for September of this year. The blueprints will be sent in to be reviewed by the State Agency in Lansing by November with bids to be opened by December. Contracts for the new unit will be awarded in January of 1958 and work started as soon as weather permits.

The building is slated to be completed within 18 months from the time construction is started.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kidd of Schroeder Road on Memorial Day were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Terrecult and daughter of Charlotte, Michigan, and Mrs. Margaret Terrecult of Pontiac. Wendy Kidd will celebrate a birthday on June 9.
