The subject is plastic surgery. Dr. James Lawton of Straith Clinic, famous plastic surgeon, will talk on the subject from the cosmetic point of view — how large noses may become delightfully fitted, big ears disappear, receding-chinned men become square-jawed.

He will briefly touch on the importance of plastic surgery following serious accident cases, or for birth marks.

He will be available for a question and answer period.

It will also be a shutter-bug day. As many members as possible are asked to attend to have their picture taken for a new I.D. card file the League is establishing.

Those able are asked to come earlier than the 12:30 luncheon for the picture-taking process.

President Doris Weber will preside at her first meeting, Jeanné Sansone is Program Chairman for the month.

EVEN THE COMMITTEE is looking forward with anticipation to the Antique Show to be held in conjunction with the Plymouth Fall Festival. Finalizing plans (l-r) Mrs. Donald Ward, Mrs. Robert Jenkins, Mrs. Richard Hagmeyer, Mrs. Harold Guenther, Mrs. K. E. Van Antwerp.

Antique Show Highlight Of Plymouth Fall Festival

There's more than just a hint of fall in the air these hazy mornings. Downtown Plymouth has had an anticipatory air for quite a while. The little old town crier took up his annual stand in Kellogg Park several weeks ago and now from every lamp post hang the gold and orange oak leaves with their banners proclaiming Sept. 11, 12 and 13 as Fall Festival Days.

There's an old-time revival of community spirit and co-operation that makes this annual turning-back-the-clock the highlight of the years activities. The whole town goes colonial; it's more fun than a hunking bee and everyone loves it.

The setting is perfect for an Antique Show and Sale and this year 22 dealers will display their treasures at the Grange Hall and Community Building on Union Street. Last year's chairman, Mrs. Ray Holce, is acting as advisor to co-chairmen Mrs. Robert Jenkins and Mrs. K. E. Van Antwerp. Mrs. W. E. Augustine, Mrs. Donald Ward and Mrs. Harold Guenther have been busy with decorations. In charge of properties is Mrs. Carl Schultze.

It was in 1827 that Lewis Cass, Territorial Governor of Michigan, affixed his signature to the document that officially named the small settlement "Plymouth". The pioneer women of that era would approve the industry, imagination and down-right hard work of their modern counterparts in their preparations for this event. They would probably be amazed at the value now placed on their handmade arrow-backed chairs, pine chests, butter bowls and fall-leaf tables. They will all be on display and for sale along with old guns, glassware, jewelry, books, buttons, coins, clocks, china, lamps and lanterns.

The show opens at 11 noon and closes at 10 p.m. all three festival days. Refreshments will be available, prepared and served by Mrs. Russell Cook and her committee of ladies from the Plymouth Grange.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

Sound the trumpets, shoot the cannon—let's celebrate. No, it isn't a raise in pay or a shorter work week, but The Observer Newspapers now has a Woman's Department. Before, all we had was a Woman's Editor. These lovely ladies in their respective communities. The motto of our Department is to be pleasant, our theme is to be present, and our aim is to be and keep you well informed. All your staff meetings will be for lunch. Associate Women's Editors are Irene Bash of Farmington, Lois Chase of Redford Township, Bebe Lindhout of Livonia and Elly of Plymouth.

They aren't just judging beauties at the State Fair these days. And it isn't just a place for youth to gather to see or hear their current rage imported from New York or Hollywood.

There are these things, true, but there is another group the Fair is geared to please—me and thee.

They have a Home Arts Judging where the most beautiful boutique items may be found, delicately-fashioned and most elegant. Delightful tasty goodies too are in this judging. These things may sound old hat and square... believe me, they are not. Competition is keen, and only the very finest catch the glint of the judge's eye.

Mrs. Stella Matika, Aken Ct., Livonia, came home with a "first" for a tatted edge towel; Mrs. Wilma Sakak, Rayburn, Livonia, received a "third" for her Streusel and a "fourth" for her potato bread; Janet Garvey, Doris, Livonia, received a "third-junior" for her knitting; Mrs. Jerry Feldman, Texas, Livonia, a "first" for a crocheted child's sweater; "third" for infant's knitted jacket, cap and booties, and a "fourth" for a sweater set.

Marjorie J. Hendricks, Fenton, Redford Township, "second" for her clock design socks, also for her plain knit socks; "third" for Argyle socks and a "third" for her cable socks.

In Farmington, Miss Marylou Seldon, West 10 Mile Road, received a "third" for her canned plums.

Mrs. Edward Weber, Wayburn Drive, Farmington, a "fourth" for her cable socks; Mrs. Howard Matteson, Becking Court, Farmington, a "third" on her dill pickles; John Glick, Gill Road, Farmington, a "third" on ceramics and Mrs. G. W. Checketts, Old Homestead Road, Farmington, a "third" for pickles, jam and bean pickles and a "fourth" on her pear pickles.

On the subject of me and thee: have you noticed how much smarter kids are today? Take a really good look. M'thinks there is a whole new trend arriving. With so many of these young people coming from abroad and our children traveling to foreign countries (even Scout troops are doing it), there seems to be a tremendous upgrading. A new thirst for learning is coming into its own among our young people and it is the most encouraging sign seen of late.

A few mothers and fathers must have noticed it. A report came back to Dr. Eric Bradner, President of the Schoolcraft Community College. He was non-plussed at the number of parents showing up for registration for night school. He expected 300 or so—800 came; and they managed to register 500. Dr. Bradner is worried about the other 300 and wants them to return as soon as possible. They will, the first time they get into a conversation with their offspring and find out they not only don't know the answers, but they don't even know the questions.

See you there!

MRS. RALPH G. NAIDOW

Naidow-Bennett Exchange Vows

Wedding vows were exchanged between Donna Jean Bennett and Ralph Gordon Naidow Aug. line. The full skirt was fashioned with a Watou train. Double Church, Rev. Paul I. Greer officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse G. Bennett and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Naidow of Grosse Ile.

A gown of silk organza was applied with Chantilly lace, beaded pearls trimming the neck and the full skirt was fashioned with a Watou train. Double Church, Rev. Paul I. Greer officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The flower girl carried a basket of miniature rose buds. Ross Naidow, the groom's brother was best man, Graham Bennett, bride's brother, Edward Senn and Robert Whitehouse acted as witnesses.

Following their reception at Let's Skyline Room, the newlyweds motored to Pocomo Mountains in Pa. They will reside in Livonia following their wedding trip.

Powder blue summer brocade sheath was chosen by the maid of honor Miss June Gordon, cousin of the bride. Completing her outfit was a small headpiece of three small roses with a bouffant veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of red gladiolus.

Identically gowned were the bridesmaids, Nancy Tresh, and Mrs. Robert Bolks. They carried pink gladiolus.

Public officials who wink at crime and corruption today will be working with it tomorrow.
