A Word Portrait Of An Artist

BY BETTY BALDWIN

Ben Glicker has much to say about the individual. The eyes become alive, full of life, intense with his brushes and oils. What he says is very fluently and expertly like the "pro" he is. With great delicacy, beauty and images. Mr. Glicker's paintings hold this artist tells a story and does, paint many subjects, with every painting. Meaningless dabs of paint on canvas are not for him. When he paints, the subject can be read and understood.

In portrait work he is especially skilled, however, he does not confine his work to this field. Being a true artist he can and does, paint many subjects. When he paints a portrait it of the children show definite

Compton Village Plans Bridge

MAUREEN ZOBL 421-9589

Compton Village is abuzzing with activity lately. Had a wonderful time at the Membership Rally-Corn Roast last week. And plan to attend the first general membership meeting, Oct. 15th at Adams School. Remember—that's Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Also looking forward to meeting our new block captains and buying a membership to the Civic Association.

Understand that Dick King, our new Social Chairman is working hard on the annual dance arrangements. I know so far, Dick has secured Roma Hall, system, and special recognition to Golden Arrow members.
