Save-Get Theatre Guild Season Tickets Now

The 11th season of live theater is announced by the Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford which will open Oct. 23 with the readings of the "The Fourposter."

Mrs. Beverly Green, Membership Director announced that season tickets are now available. "A season ticket entitles the person to attend all shows for the season on any night of the performance." Mrs. Green stated, "In addition a couple saves 20 percent on the price of the individual tickets, which is a remarkable saving for live theater right in your own backyard. The Guild also offers an active membership for those who just would like to meet people and enjoy the many phases of the mystery of backstage curtain theater."

Pat Stoen, Executive Director, in announcing the season stated that the additional shows this year now makes available to the area the most complete program ever presented by the Guild and should prove very exciting for the area. The

Curtain Going Up . . . WALLY ROBERTS

Theater Nature presently is engaged in producing gardens and flowers. These are fortunate enough to take a trip or two up to the Northern parts of our fair state. Golden yellows variegated ever so slightly with rosy reds peek modestly at the flowers. We still are fortunate enough to have a group of trees in the background.

The leaves are tumbling down on cue as the old Stage Manager in the sky slowly shakes the heavenly grid.

Such poetic thoughts are quite in keeping after witnessing a rip-roaring production of the APA's second play of the season, "The Hostage." Brendan Behan, an intoxicating Irish poet, wrote the play set in a brothel in the early 1900's. The play is a riot, but its freshness is still evident. Stephen Porter, the director, has infused even more life into the script by adding piquant bits of local color. "The Hostage" is a play that is fun for everyone, the audience, the actors, and the director.

Of course, if you are the type of theatergoer that might be a bit upset at a line that lifts the status quo, you'd better say "no" to this artistic triumph. Mr. Behan pulled no punches in this production. The actors throughout their lines pace as if they were a play played in a brothel has left no stone, holy or otherwise, unturned. "The Hostage" is a free-wheeling, whirlwind, side-splitting version of Charles Noel.

Below is an application for a year of fun and excitement with friends and neighbors in community theater. If additional information is required, call GA 7-6263 or KE 7-8109.

of life itself. You might try to say your life is a bit more sedate. Such language does not emanate from your household. Well, let's be honest now, there are times when your life can truly represent all the wild, wonderful actions on the Lydia Mordenhauer stage.

The audience that Old Wally was a part of on opening night had little difficulty identifying the real-life situation presented bizarrely. The gay, zestful atmosphere of Pat's liberal借贷精神, the sexual freedom of the theater. Donald Moffat and Paddy Croft head up a cast that did its roles brilliantly. If there was a flaw anywhere, it was difficult to see it. The APA company danced, sang and generally bounced their way through a happy script. Clayton Corzette and Jennifer Harmon provided some tender moments, but it was the raucous, "no-holds-barred" times that gave the audience the laughs. The APA stages are first in play with so much criticism of affairs as "The Hostage" does so amusingly. You will have ample opportunity to witness this remarkable change in style with be playing in repertory for the next six weeks over in Ann Arbor. Don't miss it — that is, it's bawdy situations and lines don't offend your delicate sense of hearing.
