

ObserverReaders 'Speak Up' About Current News Events*Looking Back

Editor:
It is no mystery to thinking Americans why the interim President, and his party, do not want responsible citizens to "look back." Billie Sol Estes, Bobby Baker, Matthew McConaughay, and others are examples. If I had their record I, too, would not want many more of it exposed. No wonder resident security officers have received orders to "destroy all completed investigative reports by burning process, with a special agent in attendance."

If this corruption were not enough, they wish us to vote to continue the policies of a party that is dying. Communism is growing, socialist concepts are being taught to our children, foreign aid is being sent to communist countries, and Americans are being killed and imprisoned. This administration's defiance, including the general lack of respect for the Constitution,

We will represent the people in our district, not their own interests. I am going to vote for Kuhn and those candidates who believe with Barry Goldwater, in patriotism, in individual liberty, fiscal integrity and respect for the Constitution.

'Ol' Courthouse'

A few weeks ago there was a letter in this column relating to the new Court Building located on Seven Mile Road. We appreciate the fact that we may be in an old building but I am very sure that anyone that had been in Court a few years ago and would come back now, wouldn't recognize the interior of the Court Building. There have been many changes in fact, requiring the payment man had celebrated as winner.

MAKING UP for lost time in his second season on Michigan State's football team is Boris Dimitrije, former Livonia Bentley all-state lineman. Boris has finally found a home at center and currently is listed as the No. 2 offensive pivot man behind Senior Don Ross. He was in the starting lineup against Northwestern last Saturday.

For Joiner, who took over as coach in 1961, last Friday night's win lifted him into heaven.

After two very rough years and an 0-6 start in '64, Joiner was beginning to wonder — "maybe I don't belong as a head coach," or something like that.

But he had proved that he DOES BELONG.

Not every coach can bring a team back the way Joiner did this season.

Of course, the season isn't over. There's still this Saturday's game with Franklin for city title of Livonia.

But, first things first . . . and right now, there's the competition of the league to talk about.

It was only fitting, perhaps, that Harvey Jaksch should score the touchdown against Allen Park.

When Jaksch moved in as No. 1 quarterback for Bentley, the team seemed to take off.

But, while Jaksch scored to the touchdown, the real hero was Bill Woods.

Just before the score, Woods intercepted a Allen Park pass and ran 40 yards to the Allen Park 18.

Two plays later, Jaksch shot a 14 yard pass to Roger Jones on the two. On the next play, Jones ran over and then converted.

Most of the game was played between the two 30-yard lines.

Neither team could break any other great threat until

We as a community, should seek other ways as well to teach that hostility and destructive ness are unrewarding.

Until we evolve other solutions, let each citizen in Livonia support the police and police authority in enforcing the current restitution remedy. It requires coming forth with information and getting involved. The authorities will need all help available.

Accident Appalling

Editor:
We were appalled when we read the article which informed Livonia citizens that a fatality had occurred for damages caused by their children's vandalism.

It is the opinion of the author we have requested the improvements that have occurred during the past few years.

• Get Involved

Editor:
It was most encouraging to read the article which informed Livonia citizens that a fatality had occurred for damages caused by their children's vandalism.

It is the opinion of the author we have requested the improvements that have occurred during the past few years.

I'm sure many readers were heartened by such action. However, let each of us who wants to have the responsibility laid at the proper doorstep remember that it is the responsibility of every citizen to report any criminal action and involvement.

Some adults with knowledge of the identity of destructive youngsters may feel intimidated and fail to disclose information. Consider it to be the fear of protection, desire to them private disclosure and cooperation with authorities, much more so than citizen apathy? If so, such an attitude encourages an element of destructiveness in some youngsters who certainly do not need any further stimulation.

In fact, requiring the payment of money does not solve the entire problem, and may not be much of a deterrent. Such a situation, however, the citizens at least to a small extent. We as a community, should seek other ways as well to teach that hostility and destructive ness are unrewarding.

Curfew Now?

Editor:
Last Wednesday night, October 29, 1964, while playing football on my boyfriend's lawn, a Livonia police car pulled up in front of his house at 8 p.m.

He promptly spotted us with his spotlight and told us it was too late to be out on the street and to get home, even though there was no curfew and we were all 17.

I would like to know when the law was passed that says you have to be in off your own property by 8 p.m.

May the Livonia police department doesn't have anything too much to do with these kids. I know the boy did wrong to run but adults should have better judgment than kids. Some things I wonder!

I have two teenage boys and it could well have been them if they happened to be at that property at 8 p.m.
