

Madonna Begins Speakers Bureau

"If you settle for mediocrity, you may find life more tranquil; it will also be much more dull. The true value of living comes in serving others."

This is the challenge being met by the Madonna College faculty who are offering a series of lectures for the purpose of acquainting the community in which they work with trends in teaching, provisions being made for a more thorough education, and careers and preparation open to the woman of tomorrow. Thus far, President, Sister M. Raynolds, CSSP, has addressed parents with a talk on "The Changing Image of the Catholic Layman." Dean of Studies, Sister M. Martina, CSSP, spoke to Parent-Teacher Association groups on "Helping Your Child Grow in Obedience."

In-service teachers have also met to hear explanations of trends and developments in their areas of work. Sister

M. Lauriana, CSSP, Reading Coordinator for the Archdiocese of Detroit, has addressed several groups on the following subjects: "Liturgical Approach to the Teaching of Reading," "Teaching Reading," "Reading Skills in the Content Area," "Parents — Teachers of Reading," and "Parents as Educators." Sister M. Virginia, CSSP, Math Professor, will discuss "Contemporary Mathematics in the Primary Grades." Since Madonna College, a fully accredited liberal arts college for women, located on Schoolcraft and Levan Roads in Livonia, has expanded its academic and residence facilities, faculty members are interested in acquainting the public, and especially high school girls with the opportunities, cultural and professional, available with a college education. With this purpose in mind, Sister M. Sig-munda, CSSP, has addressed a high school student with a talk on "The Role of a Woman in a Catholic College." Sister M. Danutha, CSSP, has spoken to a gathering on "Because You Are a Woman," and Sister M. Madonna, CSSP, will address a high school meeting on the subject of "That Woman is You."

Meekness and charity have divine authority.

Michigan Crime Rate Rises 8.6 Per Cent

Michigan's crime rate increased 8.6 per cent during the last four years of 1960-63, according to the fifth annual "Michigan Law Enforcement Officials Report on Crime for 1963," compiled by the State Police from reports submitted by all police agencies.

There were 1,287.7 criminal offenses per 100,000 population last year compared with 1,140.2 in 1960. The rate was 1,208 in 1962 and 1,180.6 in 1961. The state's population, according to federal estimates, gained 3.7 per cent from April, 1960, to July, 1963. The population was 3,853,000 in 1961, 3,929,000 in 1962 and 4,060,000 in 1963.

Viewed another way, the rate of increase in crime in Michigan has been two and a third times greater than the rate of the population gain in the 1960-63 period.
