Charles R. Denzig Elected Vice-Pres.

Charles R. Denzig, a twenty year veteran in the life insurance industry who has resided in the city of Farmington for several years, was elected Vice President and Director of a Detroit Edison overhead lines Agencies at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors of J. Clark, 22, of 24158 Elizabeth Court, Farmington, were injured in an auto accident.

Davis and Clark were thrown out of the car when it skidded out of control and swerved off the icy road on Grand River, one mile east of Novi on February 4.

TOM OLIVER of Farmington (pictured above) may be looking at a pet gold fish or maybe one of these dangerous South American man-eating varieties which strike terror to the hearts of natives, namely a Red Piranha. Tom assures us it is the latter he is viewing and also that the novelty of having a "fish eater" in his Freedom Road apartment has worn off for both him and his school teacher wife. We think it is probably the only man-eating fish in Farmington but since it can only handle about an ounce of meat once or twice a week there is no immediate threat to the Oliver household, although the little devil is still growing.

Two Area Men Grateful for Aid of Alert Edison Linemen

Raymond Davis, 21, of 23101 Elizabeth Lane, New Hudson, said that "if those Edison men hadn't helped, I don't know what would have happened to us."

Young Davis was referring to the quick action on the part of a Detroit Edison overhead lines crew when Davis and Thomas J. Clark, 22, of 24158 Elizabeth Court, Farmington, were injured in an auto accident.

Davis and Clark were thrown out of the car when it skidded out of control and swerved off the icy road on Grand River, one mile east of Novi on February 4.
