

Linda Gould, R. Page Wed Will Live In Farmington

Miss Linda Roxanne Gould, daughter of Don B. Gould, of 20030, Purlingbrook, Livonia, and Charles Raymond Page were united in marriage at 7:30 p.m. on March 6, at Forest Hills Church, on Twelve Mile Rd.

The Rev. O. M. Bell assisted by Rev. William Balmer performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of candle light. Few candles were used and the altar was decorated with candles, white bows and white carnations and gladioli. The organist was Mrs. William Balmer and Mrs. William Smith rendered vocal selections of "Oh, Perfect Love" and the "Wedding Prayer."

The bridegroom and his best man, Alton Page of Livonia, are the sons of Mrs. Jewel Page and the late Mr. Page.

The former Miss Gould was given in marriage by her father. She wore a peach duet and lace semi-sheer gown ending in a detachable chapel train. The bride's dress was cut to a bateau neckline and three-quarter length sleeves with a pearl and lace insert. A pearl and crystal tier held her silk French illusion three-tiered bouffant veil. The bride's bouquet of white carnations and rose buds was in colonial design with trailing ivy.

THE MAID OF HONOR, Miss Bonnie Campbell, of Farmington, was attired in a floor length sheath gown of pink chiffon over taffeta with a "brochet" bodice of daisy design and empire waist forming a bow in back. She carried a colonial bouquet of lavender daisies and matching headpiece of live daisies and ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Miss Dolores Estef of Livonia, and Mrs. Ronald Hacker of Jackson, Michigan, were similarly dressed in orchid and carried pink daisies.

The list of groomsmen was headed by Roger Richardson, Livonia, and Jim Empey of Livonia. Don Gould, brother of the bride, served as usher and all wore formal tails.

A buffet dinner was served following the wedding at Roma Hall in Livonia. Guests were seated at round tables centered with white flowers, greenery, candles and white doves were nested in the center. Mr. and Mrs. John Hacker of 26742 Westmire, Farmington where Linda lived prior to her marriage, hosted an open house for relatives and close friends following the reception. Mrs. Dennis Blue and Mrs. William Smith assisted at the punch table, after which the bride and bridegroom opened their gifts.

"Rumpelstiltskin" To Be Staged Here

A traditional fairy tale once again comes to life as the Exchange and CIHU (Can I Help You) Clubs sponsor the play "Rumpelstiltskin."

These two service clubs of the Farmington Senior High, with the able assistance of their faculty advisors, Mr. Thomas Peace and Mr. George Barrons, have arranged to have the Northville Players present this play on Saturday, April 24. This quite professional group has been extremely active throughout the surrounding communities performing in similar plays.

The Farmington Junior High stage will once again be the scene of the two performances. The afternoon matinee at 3:30 p.m. will be directed to the younger set whereas the 7:30 p.m. performance will prove to be a pleasant evening for the family.

The profits of this project will be divided between the two clubs, with some going to aid the exchange students who will travel abroad this summer and the rest going into other service organizations fund.

Arrangements have been made to sell tickets in the Farmington elementary and Junior high schools. Tickets may also be purchased from the members of either club.

At Mr. Carmel Hospital, Detroit, Mrs. Betty Graham, of Mayfield Ave., remains critically ill.
