the growth of any community, were put within the reach of small municipalities with the creation of the DPW.

The Oakland County DPW so far has 23 projects costing $42,180,500 already completed or under construction.

Those completed already have opened 150 square miles to suburban development and more than 60 per cent of the municipalities in the county have benefited from the county public works accomplishments.

SUPERVISOR McDONALD continued Hamlin's report on past and present functions of county government with a critique on the proposed county home rule legislation, Senate Bill No. 112.

McDonald stated there was a "dire need" in Wayne County for a reorganization providing more "executive authority."

He cited areas of short and long term financing, economy and efficiency were concentrated authority at the county level would bring about more effective government.

A step-by-step vote of the people will decide the issue of county home rule," McDonald said. Three elections, one to approve a charter commission, another to elect members to serve on the commission and finally a vote on the county officers, would be necessary to ultimately bring about revision of county government, under the proposed home rule legislation.

COUNTY HOME RULE legislation, under a study since 1963, could not be realized before 1969 "at the earliest," according to McDonald. Some 30 meetings have been held to study other charters across the country in an attempt to make the home rule bill applicable to any county in the state.

McDonald said he has worked on the county home rule legislation for two years and supports it. He stated without such a revision county government would be subject to the dictates of the state legislature, would be faced with inadequate revenues and the prospect of being burdened with new taxes without consideration of the county's ability to assume them.

The question as to whether the "sweeping revision" of major offices and departments within the county was answered by the county lawyers as a doubtful prospect due to the restrictions which would be placed on any charter commission by the state legislature and political considerations which could block any possible revision entirely.

WhiteCane Wk. To Be Observed

This year White Cane Week will be observed in Michigan from April 25 through May 1. The Farmington Lions Club throughout Michigan will team together during this one week which is set aside to acquaint the public with State Laws which have been adopted for the protection of the blind.

It is the aim and plan of the Lions to provide every blind person with a "White Cane"—the symbol of blindness in a measure of protection for them.

THE FARMINGTON LIONS will be in the shopping centers on the street corners Friday night, April 23, selling the miniature white canes.

Plan to Pave Thomas Street

A public hearing on the paving of Thomas Street from Farmington Road to Warner Street will be held Monday, May 3, at 8 p.m. as the result of official action taken by the City Council at a meeting Monday night.

This street runs to the rear of commercial buildings on the north side of Grand River east of Farmington Road. The asphalt paving is proposed in conjunction with the development of a new blacktopped off-street parking lot area at the rear of the stores in this area in an effort to rejuvenate this group of business stores.

A public hearing on the establishment of parking lot district for this section is scheduled for the same night. The estimated cost for the paving of Thomas Street has been set at $8,100 with the plan being for 75 per cent of this cost to be borne by the benefiting property owners and the remaining 25 per cent by the city-at-large.

A third public hearing on Monday evening, May 3, will be for still another off-street parking lot improvement proposed on a special assessment basis. This will be for the blacktopping of the parking area to the rear of stores fronting on the south side of Grand River and west side of Farmington Road in the south-west quadrant of the downtown business section.

Senior Citizens Plan Bake Sale April 24

THE EASTER BUNNY'S tracks were easily followed by youngsters last Saturday morning as the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce staged its annual Easter Egg Hunt in the Farmington City Park. Nearly an inch of snow which blanketed the ground as the small fry scrambled for the candy eggs. The Easter Bunny is pictured above, probably making an exchange for a young enthusiast who may have found his chocolate egg a little soggy. Hundreds of youngsters showed up for the hunt and the sweets awarded prizes to those in each age group who made the most luck and to those who changed to get eggs specially marked.

Study Budget

The Clarenceville School District Board of Education is continuing a study of its proposed 1965-66 school year budget.

While some parts of the tentative budget have been under study by Board members for the past several months, many decisions on what could be done had to be delayed until after the election on a bond issue and millage proposition was held. Clarenceville school officials explained.

It was also pointed out that it is still not possible to establish a final budget figure because of the fact that certain information concerning the state equalized valuation for the school district has yet to be received. Money available The proposed budget figure needed to do all that the Board considers desirable in 1965-66 is presently $1,888,000. This is an increase over the present year of approximately $200,000.

Building Permits Issued

THE TOWNSHIP issued several permits for new industrial or commercial buildings or additions during this three month period with the total value running approximately $124,000. The biggest single project was for an addition to the State Fabrikators building in the township.

The biggest City of Farmington job for which the city issued a building permit was for the new Pioneer Loan and Savings building being put under construction in the City Industrial Park north of Eight Mile and west of Farmington Road.

A $92,000 value has been placed on this new industrial plant. Another big permit issued was for the new Pioneer Loan and Savings Ice Cream building now nearing completion on the west side of Farmington Road just south of Grand River Avenue. The value on this building has been set at $32,000. Indications are that Farmington may be heading for one of its biggest building years in the recent past this year.
