THE BIKE AUCTION staged by the Farmington City Department of Public Safety last Saturday had a fair number of people on hand looking for bargains. Warrant Officer Donald Youles was the announcer, assisted by Police Chief Maurice D. Foltz, Sgt. Robert Deadman and Officer Richard Miller. Besides the bikes, there went on the block, watches, radios and even a cowboy hat, items which were left unclaimed at the City Police Department for at least a period of 90 days, all went to the highest bidder.

Gerald will leave Livonia at the end of the school year and spend the summer living and learning with students of The Netherlands.

Three other Clarenceville students are still awaiting word of their chances to study overseas next school year. Debbie Johnson, Linda Harrington, and Sharon Rudman are each candidates for a full year of study and such students are selected during the summer months.

Clarenceville will have the honor of hosting 35 American Field Service students during a three day visit in early July. Arriving in Clarenceville on July 5 these young exchange students will be staying in local homes and several special activities have been planned during their stay.

Each of these students are finishing a year of living and learning here in the United States and are on their way to meet with President Johnson before leaving for their homelands.

These bus trips are used to end the visit and show the students several other parts of

Students Earn Family "Y" Membership

Fifteen Farmington elementary school students submitted outstanding statements of "What Citizenship Means to Me" as a climax to a month-long study of the subject in the 5th and 6th grades of the schools.

Kiwanis will honor the students through its youth activity committee by presenting to the family of each youngster a family membership in the YMCA. The project is part of Kiwanis activity to promote family life and interest in worthwhile local organizations such as the Y.

THE ENTRIES REPRESENT the best from each elementary school. They were chosen at a building level, not only as the most significant statement on citizenship from the school, but as a re-statement of the ideals the student exemplifies in his own school citizenship.
