a bird in the hand...

A bird in hand is mighty comforting when really needed. We mean the handy, convenient feeling of money in the bank for emergencies. It's yours on short notice - and you don't need to jeopardize your long-range financial plans to get it. Responsible brokers of real estate, securities and life insurance emphasize this point. Over and over you hear them advise: "Make this investment only after you have sufficient cash reserves in bank savings to meet critical family emergencies." Join the many Detroiters who, for 108 years, have kept their funds safe, convenient and available at The Detroit Bank & Trust Company. Why wait? Open your savings account today at any of our 53 locations all over town... one is just minutes away.
