Road Patrol Is Extended

Sheriff's road patrol service for western Wayne County scheduled to end Aug. 31, apparently will continue at least until Nov. 30, the end of the Wayne County fiscal year.

The extension was approved last week by the board's ways and means committee, which consists of all 27 commissioners who will consider the measure as members of the full board Aug. 28.

Approval from the ways and means committee came only after several township supervisors submitted written agreements to seek millage to finance the police services.

At a meeting last month, the ways and means committee rejected an extension because committee members were unsatisfied with township efforts or committed intentions to share the cost of the free patrol services.

Following a decision two years ago to eventually cease free road patrol services, commissioners have asked townships to provide their own police protection or bear the cost of Sheriff's patrols.

Commissioners maintain that townships so far have received police protection paid for by taxpayers county-wide, and that this arrangement is inequitable.

The 33 cities in Wayne County either finance their own police departments or contract with the sheriff.

There are 10 townships. The commissioners also want written commitments from township boards of trustees before they consider next year's budget for the sheriff's motorized road patrol. Budget deliberations begin in early October.

Libraries Have Films For Aged

Nine local libraries have a special film service available to area nursing homes, homes for the aged and senior citizen housing units.

A collection of 100 16mm films is available for loan to licensed homes in Farmington, Garden City, Livonia, Westland, Plymouth, Southfield and Redford Township.

The films emphasize topics of interest to older citizens and include dramas, comedy, travel, history and films on the arts.

Recreation directors or representatives from the homes may pick up the films at the Farmington District, Farmington Public, Livonia's Alfred Noble and Carl Sandburg, Plymouth's Dunning-Hough, Redford Township, Southfield and Wayne-Westland libraries.

The libraries are affiliated with the Wayne Oakland Library System. Projectors and screens aren't available.

They are Diane Burk and John Covert of Whittier, James Colton and Jean Gordon of Dickinson and William Ryan of Frost.

The institute, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, will run through Aug. 10.

The teachers spend eight to 10 hours each day in field studies, laboratory research, lecture-seminars and workshops in studying applications of basic ecological principles.

WHY INSULATE

Two very good reasons to insulate are to increase your personal comfort and save heating dollars. There are no cold floors, cold walls and chilly corners in a home that's properly insulated. The insulation slows down heat loss through walls and ceilings. At the same time, it helps keep cold air from seeping in. And, for summertime comfort, it helps keep the hot air out. Acting as a barrier to stop heat loss, insulation reduces your fuel consumption (in many cases as much as one-third). Obviously, when less heat is lost, less fuel is required and your heating costs are reduced.
