SC Registers Aug. 20-21

Schoolcraft College will hold registration for its fall semester Aug. 20-21 in the school's auxiliary gymnasium. Classes begin two days later on Aug. 23. The campus is at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Registrar Russell Bogarin has assigned the morning of the first day to sophomores, starting with students whose last names begin with O-Z at 8:30. At 9:30 it jumps to persons named A-H, and I-N's are taken at 10:30.

Freshmen whose last names fall between I-L register at 1 p.m. the first day. E-H are taken at 2 p.m. and A-D at 3 p.m. The balance of the freshmen register on the morning of Aug. 21 with U-Z at 8:30, M-P at 9:30 and Q-T at 10:30.

Evening students may register from 6-8:30 p.m. both days, also in the auxiliary gymnasium.

Persons new to the college will want to complete an application, available in the admissions office. A course enrollment form, completed with the assistance of a counselor, is also required for admission to the auxiliary gym for registration.

Schoolcraft has an impressive number of offerings in its "what's new for the fall semester" department.

The college has new one-year programs for piano teachers and in heating, air conditioning and refrigeration. Also, new degree programs in climate systems control, medical laboratory technology, and industrial security.

Day and evening credit classes are being taught on campus and at the new instructional center in Garden City.

Block scheduling will be available for the first time, also. Classes in business, math, English, philosophy, political science and biology will be offered once a week for three hours, rather than the traditional one-hour meeting three times weekly.

Block scheduling is especially helpful to mothers with small children who have time and transportation concerns.

Schoolcraft's child care center is open to children while their parents attend classes or study on campus. A $5 family registration fee is charged, and 60 cents per child per hour. A health certificate is also required.

Schoolcraft is a community college created by the five K-12 districts of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth. Residents pay a low $11 per credit hour, while non-residents are charged $22, and out - of - state students pay $33.

Madonna Sets TV Workshop

Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia, is offering a TV workshop for the fall semester entitled "Television Production Techniques" (Journalism 350). Classes will be held on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m., beginning Sept. 5.

The course carries four credit hours and will be taught by Charles D. Derry, WXYZ-Television (Channel 7).

The workshop is a practical course in the production techniques and equipment including videotape, microphones, cameras and lighting. Each student will produce at least one program of his own design, thus assuring him of maximum learning opportunities.

While emphasis will be on production of programs for educational and industrial use, it will also provide an overview of related fields. Guest speakers will provide supplementary implementation.

"Television Production Techniques" carries four credit hours and may be taken on either a credit or a non-credit basis. Tuition is $35 per credit hour. Since classes are limited, those wishing to enroll in the course should register at the earliest possible date.

NW Highway Job Suspended

The State Highway Commission has agreed to a request from Gov. Milliken to suspend temporarily acquisition of right-of-way for the proposed extension of Northwestern Highway in Oakland County.

Milliken asked for the suspension until "the environmental impact statement for the project is completed and adequately reviewed."

By unanimous vote, the four-member commission agreed to the temporary suspension, pending completion of the environmental impact statement.

State Highway Director John P. Woodford said that of the 283 parcels of property needed for the project, options to purchase have been obtained on 23 parcels.

LIT Registration Begins Aug. 21

Registration for both day and evening college will begin Tuesday, Aug. 21, at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Interviews with new students already have started to allow sufficient time for the arrival of high school transcripts and other data.

Offices are open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. at LIT, Northwestern and 10 Mile in Southfield.

Classes in the evening college will begin Sept. 5 in advance of the day college which starts Sept. 10.

LIT is one of the few colleges in the U.S. which offers planned and scheduled bachelor of science degree work entirely in its evening college. The work is identical to that offered in the day college but is completed in six instead of four years.

The evening college classes are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights while the day college operates five days per week.

Bachelor of science degrees are granted in architecture; mechanical, electrical and construction engineering; physics; chemistry; mathematics; computer science; accounting and other fields.
