CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

THE MONTH LONG 1958 March of Dimes campaign officially got underway yesterday. In order that all might be in readiness prior to the opening of the Polio Drive, members of the local Kiwanis Club went about the task of delivering canisters to all business places in the area over the week-end. Receiving a canister here behind the counter of his establishment is Edward Mosure, proprietor of Oak Pharmacy. Presenting him with the canister is Owen Martin, 1957 Kiwanis Club president. Distribution of canisters for the local drive has been undertaken by Kiwanians for the past five years as their part in the worthwhile project to raise funds to aid in the fight against the crippling polio disease.

Looking Ahead

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON

the consumers, not the government, decide (by their choice in the free market) what should be produced.

"It is based on the doctrine of individualism, which holds that as long as individuals are normal, healthy, and free, they can secure the things that they want for themselves. American capitalism does not originate in the mind of man but grew out of natural law. No country with a government planned economy ever has achieved a per capita income half so high as America has... The ability of the natural economy by laws to exert their dynamic force within the structure of our unique political system brings about our high production of wealth and safeguards our individual freedom."

The Outline
The outline gives a list of five goals of understanding to be developed in each student; and a list of supporting skills to be achieved. The suggested course content is:
1. Why Study Economics? 2. The Free Economy. 3. Capital and Capitalistic Production. 4. The Corporation. 5. Demand and Supply. 6. The Nature of Money. 7. Capital and Interest. 8. How the Free Economy Works. 9. Socialism. 10. Free Enterprise Versus Socialism. 11. Government in Industry. 12. Super-government, Taxation, and Inflation.

The basic text in the course is: Understanding our Free Economy; by Fred Rogers Fairchild and Thomas J. Shelly (D. Van Nostrand Company, New York). Reference books are: Applied Economics, James H. Doid (South-Western Publishing Company); Essays on Liberty, (The Foundation for Economic Education, Irvington-on-Hudson, N.Y.); Individualism and Economic Order, Friedrich Hayek (University of Chicago Press); The Vision and the Constant Star, A. E. Hobbs (The Long House); Fundamentals in Economics, R.O. Hughes (Allyn and Bacon); The Meaning of Human Progress (The Foundation for Economic Education). Write Perry Mason, Harding Academy, Seely, Arkansas, for a copy of the outline.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as your guides, and following them you will reach your destiny.

1958 Income Tax Edition Now Out

The new 1958 edition of "Your Federal Income Tax" is now available to the public. District Director A. M. Menninger of the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

It is available at principal Internal Revenue Service Offices. In addition, some institutions, as a public service, are also offering these books for sale to the public. Sixteen more pages have been added to the 1958 edition and 166 new problems are discussed and answered in the publication. "Your Federal Income Tax" is designed to assist individuals in preparing their income tax returns, when the instruction booklet which accompanies the Form 1040 does not provide full information, Mr. Menninger said.

This 1958 edition is intended as a comprehensive reference book to provide the individual taxpayer a quick and convenient way to obtain answers to most of his income tax problems. Mr. Menninger pointed out, in making this announcement.

A new drug has been added to the police arsenal in the battle against narcotics and the crimes to which addiction drives its victims. Called Nalline, it produces violent reactions when injected under the skin of any person who has taken dope recently — and merely taking dope without a prescription is often a crime.
