Second Semester Course Changes Announced for Sr. High Students

When the second semester begins a week from Monday there will be changes in the course schedules of many F.H.S. students. The majority of these changes involve the second semester courses. The following is a listing and description of one semester courses offered at Farmington High.

A combined blue print reading and shop math class is open to all students except those who have had or intend to take two or more years of drawing. This class is designed chiefly for students who have not had an opportunity to take mechanical drawing but would like to be able to read and understand prints.

Commercial law is a subject open to students in grades 11 and 12. This course deals with such topics as the development of law, insurance, business organization, contracts, and laws of sales.

Personal typing, designed for students who want to learn to type for personal use, is open to all students.

Sociology is open to seniors. This course deals with problems of home and family living, including such topics as personal adjustment, marriage, child care and family finance.

Economics is a senior elective. The course of study includes such topics as past, present and possible future business conditions and a study of various occupations.

Driver education is open to all students. Satisfactory completion of this course is now necessary for those students between the ages of 16 and 18 who wish to take out a driver's license. The course involves instruction both in the classroom and behind the wheel.

Consumer problems may be elected by all students. This course involves the study of math in relation to home and personal problems. Emphasis is put on such topics as taxes, insurance and installment buying.

Journalism I may be elected by students in grades 11 and 12 who have at least a "C" average in previous English classes. Instruction is given in newspaper writing and pressroom operation.

American government is a required course taken by seniors. State and national government, are studied.

Trigonometry and solid geometry are both one semester advanced math courses open to seniors. Prerequisite to both these courses are Algebra I and II and Plane Geometry. Trigonometry must also be taken before solid geometry. Remedial math is taken by students on the basis of a test given at the end of the junior year. All students who receive unsatisfactory marks on the test are required to take this course.

Two English III Classes Slated

Two different English III courses will replace the present one next year.

The English Department, at a meeting January 7, voted to start two new English courses, one for non-college students. They will be called College-Preparatory English III, and English III, respectively.

These courses, which will begin in September, 1958, will affect the present sophomore class. The college-prep course is a volunteer one, to be taken by students keenly interested in preparing more fully for college.

A committee of three, composed of Mr. Douglas Race, Mr. Ray Sherpitt, and chairman, Miss Rita Pieron, is preparing a statement regarding the two courses to aid sophomore class advisors in counseling students this coming spring.

Mr. Lee S. Peel, chairman of the Senior High English Department, has to say in connection with the new course. "This new plan is not a scheme to cheat the non-college student of American literature or to put the college student on a special throne. Both classes will cover substantially the same material—but in different ways. Each English III instructor will likely have at least one class of each."

There will probably be about five or six sections of each class next year.

Caliphs Band Takes 1st Place In Talent Show

The Farmington Senior High Gym was the scene of a talent show beyond compare Saturday, January 11.

The walls shook as a five piece band called the Caliphs rock-rolled themselves to first place in the annual show sponsored by the Student Council. They played "Blue Moon" and "The Sheik of Araby."

The same band, under a different name, played the show last year. An addition since then is Dick Barkol on the guitar.

The other members are Joe Koffman on the drum, Mike Agee at the piano, Dick Stumbaugh playing the saxophone, and Herb Brugman on the trumpet.

Second place went to a Charleston band led by Linda Thomas and Sue Mandulak.

Mary Cooley, trilling the "ivory," for Chopin's "Minute Waltz," captured third prize.

The first place winner received a certificate of $5, second place $3, and third place $2.

The other winners were Judy Clappison doing a classical ballet, fourth; Dale Willowby singing and playing the guitar, fifth; Bev Hale in a Charleston baton twirling act, sixth; and Peg Brown singing "That Luck Of Sun", seventh.

Also participating were John Gilles singing a spiritual, "I Wonder As I Wander," Joanne Joanne Lessway twirling to "Limehouse Blues," Jana Brown singing "I Could Have Danced All Night," Evelyn Harris in a ballroom twirling solo, Marlene Dowling singing "Whistle a Happy Tune," Donna McLain playing "Around the World in Eighty Days" on the French horn, Mary Ellen McLain singing "Somebody Bigger Than You and I," and Judy Lihan dancing to "Mama's Boy."

Contestants were judged on (1) creativeness (2) entertainment value (3) quality. The judges were Mr. Robert Zimmerman, Mrs. Dorothy Feucht, and two pure chasers from the audience, Mr. Harry Farmer and Mrs. Berling.

Ron Jordan, Student Council President, acted as master of ceremonies. The seven winners of the talent show will represent Farmington at the Inter-Lakes Talent Shows.

Two Play With Little Symphony

Farmingtonites who have seen or heard the Little Symphony of Redford Township may have seen two familiar faces in the orchestra.

The faces are those of Mr. Robert Zimmerman, F.H.S. band instructor, who plays the flute and Junior Dick Stumbaugh who plays oboe in the symphony.

The Little Symphony is composed of both amateur and professional musicians, some of whom have played in the Detroit Symphony and other major symphonies. The group has given two concert this season with a third to be presented in February at Thurston High School.

Concertmaster is Mr. Harold Hall, and conductor is Mr. Luther at O.E. Dunckel Junior High.

Y-Teens Hear Police Women

Mrs. Wilma Gummerus talked about police work and told the Y-Teens of her own experiences as a police woman at the Y-Teen meeting Monday, January 13.

Kathy Farmer is chairman of the special committee and Suellyn Brown, Evelyn Harris, Sara Cameron, Carol Jones, Sandy Payne, Janet Clark, Becky Tandy and Vicky Neilson are members.

The committee has planned their next social event for Monday, January 26. It will take place in the lunchroom. The club has two new mother sponsors: Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Balmán.

G.A.A. Basketball

In G.A.A. basketball games held last Wednesday, Balmán defeated Harris, 7 to 6; Law on over Duffin, 4 to 3; Cobb's team rocked up 13 points to Sully's; O'Donnell outscored Kyle 14 to 12 and Bolere defeated Sewall 6 to 2.

LONG WORKOUT

No game was scheduled for Tuesday, January 7, but the varsity basketball team did not rest. Birmingham High visited the Falcon court for a two-hour scrimmage. At the end of the session the score was tied 22-22. The contest consisted of 64 minutes of play, which is equivalent to two complete games.
