

A Ford Motor Co. executive reports that wages and salaries paid by U. S. corporations have increased 75 per cent in the last 10 years, while profits as a per cent of sales have declined 25 per cent. This, he says, demonstrates that wages and not profits are a major inflationary influence.

Reports from Washington indicate that if business doesn't show an upturn by mid-year there is a distinct possibility of the Administration and Congress approving a reduction in the individual income tax. Opinions differ as to how this should be done. Some want a straight percentage cut; others favor increasing exemptions.

O.L.S. 6th Graders Make Newspapers

As a special reading project last month, students of the sixth grade classes at Our Lady of Sorrows School were assigned the charming fantasy "Ben and Me," and then to make up a miniature newspaper based on this story.

The newspapers had to consist of several complete and diversified columns. Included, also, were a variety of advertisements for articles which were in fashion in the days of the great Benjamin Franklin.

The project results indicate that there may be some writers of the future among these short-time student editors. They expressed both real originality and ingenuity in developing their well planned newspapers. Sisters who teach the classes are noted.

Scout-O-Rama Time Draws Near

Boy Scout units wanting space for a booth or display at the annual Scout-O-Rama are reminded that little time remains to make arrangements.

Space is being taken up rapidly, they stated. Reservations should be mailed in as soon as possible.

It was also announced that stage show auditions will be held at the Farmington senior high 13 Sunday, March 16, and that arrangements should be completed soon by those units wishing to try out for a place in the stage show program.

Units will be receiving their Scout-O-Rama tickets around March 15, district officials said.

Generally speaking, capital investment by industry is substantially down from the very high levels of last year. A major exception to this rule is the electric utility industry, Gene Smith writes in the New York Times that the utilities will spend $5,300,000,000 this year for expansion—a new record. They will add 16,400,000 kilowatts to their capacity, also a new record.

CAP Has Guests For Social Night

The Civil Air Patrol is not all work or study. There are provisions for entertainment also. In the Farmington Squadron the last Tuesday of every month is set aside for some social event.

Last Tuesday, February 25, was such an evening. The cadets arrived at 7:00 and used the gym until approximately 8:30. During this time the girls as well as boys played basketball and performed acrobatics. When the refreshments arrived, activities moved to the cafeteria, where there was dancing. Some of the cadets brought their friends in order to introduce them to the other cadets and officers and C.A.P. activities.

Anyone interested in further information on Civil Air Patrol please phone Mayfair 6-3006 or Mayfair 6-3802 between 4:00 and 9:00 p.m.

Scheduled to Leave For Europe Soon.

Pvt. Joseph G. Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armstrong, 2655 Norfolk, Livonia, is scheduled to depart from Fort Benning, Georgia early in March for Europe under "Operation Gyroscope," the Army's unit rotation plan.

Armstrong is a member of the 3d Infantry Division which is replacing the 10th Infantry Division in Germany.

The 22-year-old soldier, a wireman in Headquarters Battery of the division's 9th Artillery, entered the Army in September 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Benning, Ga.

He attended Clareneville High School.

Civil Cemetery Assn. Annual Meet Set Mar. 13

The 4th annual meeting of the Clareneville Cemetery Association will be held Thursday, March 13, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Edna Dolany at 28125 Eight Mile Road, Livonia.

An election of officers and trustees will be conducted. Reports of present officers and committee heads will be given as well as general business being conducted pertaining to the welfare of the cemetery.

The attendance of all cemetery lot owners is desired, Secretary Russell W. Waack, said.

To Attend Architects Convention in Detroit

Architect Trivadar Singh of Farmington will be among those in attendance at the 4th annual convention of the Michigan Society of Architects at the Hotel Statler in Detroit on March 12, 13 and 14.

Michigan architects will gather for panel discussions and seminars to study all phases of city planning, regional planning, urban design and slum-clearance rehabilitation.

"A Better Tomorrow" through architecture will be our theme this year," said Frederick H. Wigen, president of the Society. In addition, "We feel that much could be gained by the public if architects would become more active in the small house field and city planning."

Now comes the problem of strategy and timing of the television era.

Li Gov. Philip A. Hart, announcing his candidacy for the U. S. Senate, realized that the announcement would automatically cut off his free television time.

As an office-holder, he was welcomed before the cameras. As a candidate, he must pay his way or his opponent gets equal free time under television's code of practice—and some laws.

The office seeker must weigh the advantage of free TV time with that of press coverage as a candidate. He must also consider the advantage of formally staking out the office so far as opponents within the party are concerned.

When it seems wiser to announce, he makes his move.

This situation existed for Senator John B. Swainson (D - Detroit) who announced he is a candidate for Hart's office.

Gov. Williams, who always has waited until the last possible minute to make his announcement, is following a similar practice this year. For him, delay means even more.

As a governor, he can use a limousine chauffeured by State Police aides, ride in a state-owned and operated airplane and get free television and radio time, even without asking.

That's why he will wait, and wait, and wait . . .
