Sis "Puts on the Dog"

My paper's got two subscribers - Sis Harper and her brother Rip - out on lonely Sunset Mountain. A road goes by Sis' farm and both copies are mailed to her because Rip lives back in the woods.

Sis always ties her brother's copy of the Clarion - plus any mail - to an old hound who trots over to Rip's place. "Rip feeds the dog half of his dinner," Sis explains. "I give him the other half when he gets back. Speeds him along."

Thanks to Sis - I get the Clarion - not the only dog-powered.

On Wednesday, Dec 10 of the Club Seays met at the Seays for their Pinouts Derby.

The boys, of course, make their own cars. But I'm sure it is a very nice and fun and does more work. Dad or son? There were eight cars and eight contestants.

The Seays erected a ramp in their garage-square dance hall. From a standing start they raced the length of the garage.

More than ever before, Mark Colver came in second, and Bob Daverport was winner in the three wheel division.

Last Monday the Pontiac Cancer Society had open house from 1-3 p.m.

Florence Richards drove Ida Jensen, Elna Syerson and Beulah Kelly to this informative gathering of some 250.

A twenty minute film on cancer was shown and a doctor was present to answer the many questions asked. Tables displayed various equipment needed and used.

The Cardens had Mr. & Mrs. Alberts as house guests. They are old friends so it was a real treat that business brought Mr. Alberts and his family to Woodcreek. Monday night they gave a dinner party for eight at the Vineyards.

We must not ever before Americans need to understand all the elements in our system, their advantages, and how they work, so that we can safeguard them from calculated undermining and intrusions.

We must go overboard in coping with the well-advertised " recession." What's happening is a great need in the supply and demand mechanism. For more than 10 years the productive capacity of American industry has been running nearly full blast to meet consumer demands abnormally stimulated with billions of abnormal defense spending.

Supply and Demand... If not interfered with too much, the natural law of supply and demand will adjust the economy in the direction of soundness and there will be no protracted dislocation. Necessary consumer production, augmented by the continuing defense production, will absorb most of the present temporarily unemployed. Our only real danger would come from the development of a stampede psychology or the adoption of quack remedies.

clearly see at work the law of supply and demand. Automobile manufacturers were among those who overproduced in this market. Our system will ride out little ups and downs if we don't hamstring its basic principles and dynamic impulses.

A U.S. News & World Report article points out that sales of foreign-made cars, most of which are small economical models, are polling right along in this country. The total is expected to be 400,000, against a mere 34,500 in 1954. Volkswagen still leads by a big margin, followed by Renault.
