

According to Fortune the number of unemployed executives is increasing as a result of the recession — yet there are more top management positions open than ever before. Explanation for this seeming paradox is that most of the job seekers do not appear to have the qualifications that are in demand. Many jobs now open were previously filled by mediocre executives able to get by only in a soft market.

Natural GAS
YOUR SILENT SERVANT

 Gas Burns Up All Garbage And Trash

A gas incinerator disposes of everything from vacuum cleaner sweepings to ham bones and work bench litter. The fine ash it leaves need only be disposed of once or twice a month and makes a good fertilizer.
There are more than a dozen manufacturers in the field. Basically, incinerators are of two efficient types: (1) Those with a clock control that sets off a high, hot flame. (2) Those with a steady pilot flame. Models are available for both inside and outside installation.
A gas incinerator costs no more than a sink disposer, yet does twice the work... And they operate for only a few cents a day.

Only GAS does so much, so well... the modern fuel for automatic cooking... refrigeration... water-heating... house-heating... air conditioning... clothes-drying... incineration.

Time says that "the first real casualty of the current recession may well be the middle-aged automobile." Sales of these cars dropped from 37 per cent of the market in 1955 to 29 per cent last year, and this year the decline has been "phenomenal" — 70 per cent in the case of one long, established make.
