Two years ago this month the Staman Stitches held their first meeting at the home of Margaret Wheeler. Since that meeting the women have pinned and sewed 2,400 cancer pads. Tuesday morning, May 1, ten women of the Stitches met at the home of Jane Peterson to pin pads to be sewed at the Stitches' monthly meeting held at the Farmington Savings and Loan Building last evening. Women from Springfield and some personal guests of members were present besides members. Refreshments were served by hostess Gladys Hogan and her co-hostesses, Joyce Thomson, Florence Bragg, Katherine Williams, Ethel Grenda, Hazel McKee, and Marion Reynolds. The group enjoyed a movie on cancer and a talk given by a doctor after the movie.

On Monday evening, May 19, five women from the subdivision will exhibit their painting talents. Ethel Grenda, Louise Sidloks, Kay Dorando, Gladys Hart, and Juliette Chudwick are the budding artists who will hostess this informal get-together. The party will start at 8 p.m. and will be held at the Farmington Savings and Loan Building. This exhibit is also open to husbands.

Kiwanis See Boating Movie
A program devoted to the timely subject of boating was the feature of the May 6 meeting of the Farmington Kiwanis Club.
Presented by "Bud" Cook, the color movie stressed the great increase of pleasure boating in recent years. The Kiwanis Sheriff imposed a fine on Mr. Cook, a club member, for advertising, but the club voted him thanks for the fine entertainment.
Lloyd Smith, program chairman, announced the May 13 program would be the color pictures of life with the Aztec Indians of Central America.
