Named to Honor
Engr. Fraternity
Charles Jan Mathes, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Mathes, 2411 Farmington Road, was among the 54 University of Florida engineering students initiated into Sigma Tau Honor Engineers' Fraternity at a banquet recently at the university.
At the banquet, Dr. Robert G. Mathes, former president of the Atlantic Steel Co. and the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co., an industrial engineering consultant on the university faculty, delivered the main address.
Membership in Sigma Tau, a national organization, is given honor of achievement in engineering. The organization maintains high standards of scholarship, practicality and sociability, terming these the attributes of a successful engineer.

Visits Army Base
As ROTC Cadet
Jon Elsen, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Deane Elsen, 2824 West 5 Mile Rd., is one of 35 cadets at Kemper Military School, Booneville, Missouri, who joined a large number of Missouri ROTC students in a two-day trip to Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, as guests of the Fifth Army recently to witness the training of the engineer and basic training units.
The group observed basic training units firing with live ammunition from standard defense combat positions, received an orientation lecture on the structure, construction, and limits of the bridges constructed by the Engineer Corps, participated in a conference, and inspected typical engineer barracks, the training aids section, pipeline training section, water purification plant, and officers' quarters.
A banquet was held in their honor at the Officers' Club.
The Kemper group was accompanied by Maj. T. S. Timberlake and Capt. John R. Mackert, of the Kemper Military department.

"The Health Team" is waging a continuing battle against disease. Research physicians are exploring every possible method that can diagnose and treat sickness better.
Working closely with them are the pharmaceutical chemists who even create new chemicals. Many of the drugs now in your prescriptions were invented because of the necessity to solve a particular problem.
Our chief duty, as pharmaceutical members of "The Health Team," is to make certain that when any particular medicine is needed it is prepared to dispense it.
