The Gerald Pets family of Broadview, attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Pets' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pets, on August 27th. The day began with a 10:00 High Mass of Thanksgiving at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Detroit. Tom and Phil Pets, sons of the Gerald Pets, served the Mass along with two other of the celebrants' grandsons. An anniversary breakfast was held at the Lockmore Country Club in Grosse Pointe for 80 guests. An afternoon open house was held at the couple's home in Bradford Avenue in Detroit. The four children of the Wayne Sutton's of Raphael Dr. eagerly welcomed home last Friday their new bride, eight month old, Michael Thomas, who had arrived on August 20th. Last Tuesday evening, the Bob Tipson's of Dohany Drive had as their dinner guests, Bob's brother, Lowell, his wife, Ann, three children, who are visiting in Michigan from St. Petersburg, Florida.

Other out-of-town visitors in the subdivision were Mr. and Mrs. William Malloy and two children from Findlay, Ohio, who were guests over the long weekend at the Mrs. Malloy's on Dohany Drive. On Sunday, the Yulls were surprised with a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parley and small daughter, Bonnie Ann, from Mansfield, Ohio.

Saturday evening dinner guests at the David Krings, were Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Durbin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Evers, and son Dale, of Pleasant Ridge; and Dr. and Mrs. Leland Jacobs of Leona, New Jersey. Since the couple's first friends from high school days at Redford High, the evening was spent just visiting and catching up on the news about each other.

Mrs. William Maneeke and two daughters, Karen and Kay Lynne, of Dohany Drive drove to Bay City for an all day visit with the Kevin Korman family. The Korman's are former Farmington residents. Karen was busy bringing Sharon Kaufman up date on happenings in and around Farmington.

Joseph Evangelista left Thursday for a week's visit with his uncle, Sylvester Evangelista, in Astoria, New York. His brother, Karl, just returned from a two week's stay with relatives in Hazel Park.

Michael Gregory of Dohany spent the long weekend with his uncle and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kopy, at their cottage at Lexington on Lake Huron. His parents, the Joseph Gregorys and sister Suzanne, spent Labor Day there also.

Labor Day weekend found Bill Carpenter traveling to Coral, Michigan, to bring his family home. Mrs. Carpenter and three daughters had spent the previous week with her parents there.

The same weekend saw the return of the Arthur Conklin, Jr. family from Ruyter Lake. From Port was host to the Farmington Hills Teen Club at his home on August 28th. The members attending were Lynne Chamberlin, Ray Arvidson, Phil Peitz, John Dew, Mike Benner, Pat Burke, Tim Curtin, John Hertzell, Margaret Yenny, Denise Fleming, Marilyn Johnson and Dianne Smith.

For a change try roasted corn on the cob, suggest Michigan State University home economists. Carefully pull back husks and remove the silk. Put husks back in place and tie ends with string. Soak ears in cold water to keep them from getting too brown during cooking. Roast corn over coals for 15 to 20 minutes, turning often, until husks are dry and browned.

Benjamin Franklin was the first postmaster of the United States.

First year discussions will include the Declaration of Independence, Plato, Sophocles, Plutarch, St. Matthew, Epictetus, Machiavelli, Shakespeare, Adam Smith, Marx and Engels, Thoreau, Tolstoy, and Thoreau. Do you enjoy exchanging ideas with others? Have you put off reading the great classics? Literature books you felt you should read? Do you think the world today can benefit from the knowledge of the past? If your answers are yes, a Great Books Group may be the stimulating activity you are looking for, an official Library spokesman stated.

Registration for both groups is open-Register at the Farmington Public Library or call GR. 4-7770.

Supplies of broilers and fryers are expected to be 15 to 20 percent greater than last September, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Meditation from Thais" by Massenet and "Adoration by the Sea" by Debussy, provided the music while guests were seated for the wedding of Sylvia Jane Bates and Daniel Edward Johnson. The violin selections were played by a college friend of the couple, Clarice Olson. Sylvia's wedding gown was a full length silk organza over tulle. The yoke of the dress was trimmed with exquisite batonberg lace, which had been made by her great-grandmother and had been worn by her mother on her wedding dress. Her fingertip veil was attached to a lace cap and trimmed with orange blossoms, both of which had been worn by her mother. She carried Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Barbara Bates, sister-in-law of the bride, was Sylvia's only attendant. She wore a coral colored silk organza short length tulle. The bride's hair was styled in a short, wavy bob. The groom's hair was styled in a short, wavy bob. The couple's wedding ring was a simple band with a diamond set in the center.

Art Exhibit Proves Success

The First Annual Art Exhibit of Farmington closed last Saturday after a very successful session.

Successful from the point of view of the contributing artists who are eagerly looking forward to the next season when they can again display their many talents and successful too from the point of view of the general public who attended the show in increasing numbers as word of the exhibit gradually spread around.

The exhibit was honored by the attendance of two international visitors, one from France and one from India, as well as many from various other countries.

The last week of the show was climaxed by an "Award of Merit" given to the following artists who entered the special August feature of "Paintings of Farmington Scenes":

Harley J. Gibson of 2525 Halsted Rd. for his water color of the Township Town Hall.

Mrs. Mary Stoll who resides at 33870 Hillcrest for her oil painting of a downtown Farmington street scene.

Honorable mention was given to Mrs. Bernice White of 13662 Leasure in Detroit for her oil painting of the foot bridge at the Plum's house on Shiawassee and Farmington Road.

The exhibit committee was fortunate indeed in having the services of Richard K. Wolfe who acted as judge. Mr. Wolfe is a resident of Farmington and lives at 31584 Lee Lane. He is a graduate from the Art Department of Cass Technical High School, Wayne University, Arts and Crafts School, and from the Cranston School of Architecture. He also has studied in New York at the Art Students League. He has had one-man shows at Galka and the Detroit Artists' Mart, and is at present engaged in designing in the architectural field.

The exhibit was held at the Universalist Church of Farmington, whose board of trustees was kind enough to offer their facilities for the whole summer season.
