C'ville School Transportation Studied Tonight

Student transportation costs have become a problem at C'ville Public Schools, and a study will be held at a large committee meeting this Thursday evening, Oct. 23, at the high school building.

Twenty-one citizens from 12 groups met with the board of education last Thursday night and formed a committee.

CHAIRMAN is James Bowers with A. P. Zeld as co-chairman and Mrs. Jean Kennedy, secretary. Also present: Stanley Irish, an ex-officio member. Persons interested in the problem are urged to attend the meeting, which will be the fourth Thursday of each month.

Last year the board voted to continue its policy of picking up elementary pupils living a half mile or more from school and high school pupils a mile or more. State aid, however, is paid only for all pupils living less than a mile from school.

DIRECT COST to the school is estimated at $17,000 or $18,000 a year, and indirect costs more than that.

At tonight's meeting Mr. Irish has been asked to bring schedules, maps, routes and distribution of pupils transported. There will be discussion about what to do about finances.

Debate Monday

on why they favor incorporation The Farmington Township Citizens Committee, Inc. team will then be permitted 15 minutes to give reasons why they oppose incorporation.

Each side, speaking in the same sequence, will then be permitted 15 minutes to ask questions for rebuttal.

Following the rebuttals there will be a five minute recess at which time persons in the audience will have an opportunity to prepare questions.

The procedure during the question-and-answer period following the recess will be as follows:

ONLY QUESTIONS stated orally from the floor will be recognized by the chairman. A microphone will be available on the stage.

The purpose of excluding written questions is to make sure that no question is secretly a loaded. League officials commented.

The statement of questions will be limited to one minute. The League will supply 35 cards to those desiring to put questions into writing so as to make a more careful oral presentation. Longer questions, if any, will have to be divided into two or more questions. It was stated.

THE PURPOSE of the one minute limitation is to protect the audience from being subjected to lengthy harangues and also enable everyone to know that the question really is.

Each debate team will be given two minutes to answer each question, regardless of whether the question is directed to only one of the teams.

No questions or statements will be answered by the chairman, or any League official or anyone else except the two teams.

On each question the Farmington Township Citizens Committee, Inc. will answer first and then be followed by the Farmington Woods Committee.

A combination toy demonstration and card party was enjoyed by many ladies in Kendallwood Monday evening, October 20, at Mrs. F. Frazee's on Thorny Brae.

Interceptor

subdivision which has been beset with sewage disposal problems for some time, has already formed a special assessment district for the sewer line.

Schone stated that several other township residents have expressed a desire to tie into the sewer interceptor.

Schone was in agreement with Robert Nelson, Kendallwood resident, that a more equitable means of financing would have been to sell bonds for both the interceptor and lateral arms and then charge a flat connecting rate to cover both projects.

In this way, all residents would be paying the same rate regardless of the distance of their homes from the interceptor line, Nelson explained.

Schone stated, however, that since this would bring the amount of bonds to be sold beyond the amount which the county could place its full faith and credit behind, it would be doubtful whether bond buyers could be attracted.

It was estimated that a service charge of about $1 per month a family would be all that would be necessary for the maintenance of the sewer system.

Obituary Mrs. C. Moore Rites Monday

Mrs. Carrie M. Moore of 3332 Grand River Avenue, a lifelong resident of Farmington, passed away on Friday morning, October 17, in the White Hall Convalescent Home at Novi.

Mrs. Moore was born in Farmington Township on January 22, 1873, the daughter of Albert and Catherine Spencer Murray. She attended the Farmington Township schools and on October 16, 1895, was united in marriage to Harry W. Moore, Mrs. Moore was a member of the Universalist Church and a charter member and past worthy Matron of the Farmington Chapter O.E.S.

Funeral services took place on Monday, October 20, at 2:00 p.m. from the Thayer Funeral Home with Rev. V. J. Moore, pastor of the Farmington Universalist Church officiating. Interment took place in Oakwood Cemetery.

Surviving are two daughters, Miss Margaret Moore of Farmington and Mrs. Charles H. Thornton of Trenton, Michigan, and one son, Murray A. Moore of Farmington. She also leaves one granddaughter and one great-grandson.

Mrs. Moore, who was the farmington City Clerk, passed away in May of 1957.

Vote Yes

maximum independence possible. The importance of this independence for purposes of enforcing zoning and restricting building uses will be explained in a bulletin.

CHARTER provisions are proposed which will prevent a change of incorporation without a vote of the people, any tax of any type, any assessments, any bonded indebtedness, any additional municipal services, any additional public works, regardless of any state legislation permitting it.

Such bill-of-rights charter provisions are not likely to be seriously amended by a voting population which knows it will have to live with and pay for the results. The millage limitation might be amended some day to add a mill, but it is highly doubtful if voters in Farmington Woods will ever give up the bill-of-rights provisions, once they are won.

UNDOUBTEDLY, if the incorporation sewer had to be placed on the ballot, the financing arrangements would not have favored those near Middlebelt, but would have been placed on the ballot of the voters of the city and county, and the voters of the city and county would have the lowest sewer cost in the township and hence there is an even stronger reason to break up zoning and develop mass housing.

Charter provisions can require that more widespread health and other limitations on changes in zoning be placed in the zoning ordinance.

BOTH TOWNSHIPS and cities are not so ordered to abate health nuisances, but a charter provision can require that the area benefited bear the cost, instead of the entire community.

Both townships and cities can double assessment valuations. Should this occur, home owners in Farmington Woods, unopposed by voters in the city of the Township, will undoubtedly vote into office officials who will bring the assessment valuations back down, at least in the city of Farmington.

Miss Agnes Morrison

Miss Agnes Morrison, 18403 Irving, City of Livonia, passed away October 19, suddenly from a heart condition at her residence.

She was born in Midcaulder, Scotland May 14, 1881, the daughter of John and Susan (Addison) Morrison and had resided in Livonia seven years.

Miss Morrison leaves four sisters and one brother, Isabelle Morrison and Mrs. Jane Thorne of Livonia, Mrs. Jeanette Davidson of St. Vernon, Ohio, Mrs. Susan Shaw and Mr. John Morrison of Coshocton, Ohio.

She was a member of the Ferndale Presbyterian Church where she had previously resided.

Miss Morrison rested in the Spencer J. Heenev Funeral Home.

Funeral services were held from the Dawson Funeral Home, Coshocton, Ohio, Wednesday, October 22nd and interment was in South Lawn Cemetery, Coshocton, Ohio.

Vote No

"Vote for incorporation, and you still won't have a city," is what you'll have up to two years of uncertainty and turmoil. Two years in which no plans can be made affecting this part of the Township because it is not a city. It is certain. And since you really don't want a city, you will vote no in three consecutive elections before you're rid of the threat.

"Give us a chance. Keep the lid on" while we investigate the problems of the area.

Why didn't they take time to investigate before they moved with such haste to put their gerrymandered, jigsaw city on the ballot? And didn't these master investigators have the price of a phone call to verify the facts before they started throwing around their wild charges on the interceptor, now exploded by the Oct. 16 public meeting?

"We will write a charter that will..."

The charter of charter benefits promised is long. But above all they promise limit on taxing and spending, yoked up with stronger powers to control zoning and industry.

The trouble is that taxing and spending happens to be the only fields where a city has stronger powers than a township.

No charter on earth can make the zoning or planning decisions of a city wiser and more enforceable in the courts than those of a township. In fact, the law books show that far more city-zoning regulations are overruled by court decisions than township zoning.

No charter on earth can give a city the power to defy the State Health Department on an issue of public health.

CAN THE charter limit the city's taxing and spending powers more severely than the township is now limited by state law? Will they limit the city's tax powers to less than $3.00 per thousand? How can they improve on the democracy of the annual township meeting? State law governing townships requires a full assessment for expensive public works can come only at the initiative, and the expense of the voters of the township which will profit by the work and cannot be made a general obligation of the township. How can the new city charter improve on that — by cutting out one public improvement after another?

THE SOBER and unvarnished truth is that, at the very best, a city charter could give you no more than the township plan (which you now enjoy under the township). And any one of these protections can be knocked out at the very next election, if your vigilance relaxes.

[All that the proposed city can offer you is a change of name and a change of boundaries. If you are lucky and vigilant and willing to mobilize your neighbors at every election from now on, you might not lose much by becoming part of a city. But you might lose a great deal. You would fall heir to all the things that people in neighboring cities are suffering when they incorporated: crowding, traffic, industrialization, high taxes.

[That is why it is urgent that you vote no. Now, but that you mobilize your neighbors to defeat incorporation so resoundingly it will not be attempted soon again.

Bond, Building Bids at C'ville

Bids for the sale of $750,000 building, site and equipment bonds were to be opened 10 o'clock at 8 p.m. at C'ville Public Schools. Interest in the bonds has been indicated by Michigan and out-of-state firms.

At a special board meeting Oct. 15 authority was given the architect to advertise for construction bids on the high school addition. Bids will be opened at 8 p.m. Oct. 30.
