

DISTURBIA

BY LEW SAYRE SCHWARTZ

THE WEAK-END

Back to the hearth from your daily battle in the city only to find yourself waging a more subtle war with the things you own and the people you bought them from.

INSIST ON NO SOCIAL ACTIVITIES/on Friday nights ... conserve your strength for what's ahead.

Check your insurance policies and head
for the hardware store.

A quick check
on those little
week-end repairs
brings the cheerful revelation
that the cost
of repairs exceeds the total value of your property by about $1500.

By midnight
on Sunday you make a note to float a second mortgage and call the carpenters
in the morning.

Those looks of sheer admiration by the local carpenters and contractors are really gratifying.

MONDAY MORNING:
back to the office for a well-needed rest. "Let's see,
... what was the name of that guy who was looking for a little place in the suburbs?"

FRIDAY NIGHT: Examine the scene carefully from the train ... if there's any hint of a week-end project ... STAY ABOARD!
