OUTDOOR TELEPHONE BOOTHS are really handy to have around—so much so, in fact, that a vacationer was found living in one in the resort town of Carolina Beach, N. C. He had set up housekeeping with an old room, a small oil stove, a frying pan, cooking oil, eggs and cheese. There seems to be no limit to the convenience of these outdoor booths. But at the request of those who were waiting to make a call, our friend was encouraged to do his housekeeping elsewhere. Folks in Michigan, incidentally, are never far from a public telephone. Michigan Bell has over 4,000 outdoor booths conveniently located along the state's highways and byways.

SONG WRITERS have been inspired by the telephone ever since 1877, just a year after its invention by Bell. That's when two marches, a polka and a solemn piece called "The Wondrous Telephone" were published. More than 700 titles have appeared since then, many of them using the rhyme of "phone" and "phone." Now a new Columbia record album, with songs by Polly Bergen is available. It carries the over-all title of Irving Berlin's 1924 hit, "All Alone by the Telephone"—something you needn't be any more with friends and family just a quick call away.

Will Visit WMU Campus Soon

Freshman students who will be coming to Western Michigan University in September to begin their first year of college, will be given an opportunity to become somewhat acquainted with the campus during a two-day visit in July.

Patricia A. Sewell, 32331 Loomis, Farmington, will be among the group visiting the campus. She is in the physical education curriculum.

Under the direction of the counseling bureau, 100 students are coming to the campus four days each week. There are housed in University residence halls, having a good opportunity to become acquainted with this mode of living.

The city also tested and counseled concerning fall classes and then complete their registration for their first semester. Swimming, movies and campus tours are planned as recreation for them.

The moon's gravity is less than that of the earth, thus a visitor to the moon would weigh only one sixth as much as he weighs normally. An athlete who on earth high jumps over a six foot bar elevates his body's center of gravity an average of about three feet. On the moon he could leap 21 feet with similar effort, the National Geographic says.

Ingle Concludes Outstanding 8 Years of Judicial Service

On Saturday, July 4, Judge Allen C. Ingle, who has spent eight years of outstanding judicial service to the Farmington community, announced his decision to retire from the office of township justice of the peace in December of last year. Robert H. Nelson was elected to succeed him and subsequently took over the duties of his office on July 4.

INGLE WILL now devote his full time to a private law practice.

Receiving his law degree in 1949, Ingle was admitted to the bar and to practice law in Michigan that same year. After completing a course in accounting at the Detroit Business Institute, Ingle attended the Detroit Institute of Technology from which he received an A.B.S. degree in accounting in 1942.

College was interrupted by the outbreak of World War I. He entered the Army in September of 1942 and was soon after placed on detached service and assigned to O.S.S. work in the China-Burma-India Theater.

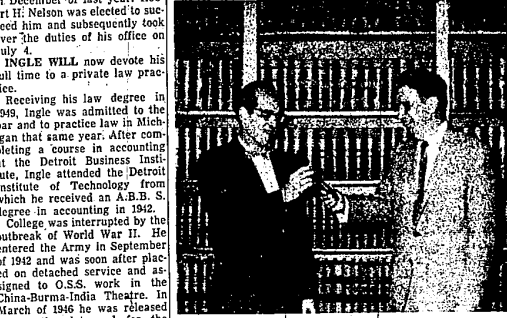

In March of 1946 he was released from active duty and for the next three years was assigned to the Secret Intelligence Branch of the Army Reserve.

RETURNING to Detroit Institute of Technology following his release from active military service, Ingle completed work as a Bachelor of Science degree in auditing and prelaw. He then enrolled at the Detroit College of Law where he completed work for his L.L.B. degree in 1949.

Ingle began practicing law in the City of Farmington in July of 1951. In April of 1952, he was elected a justice of peace for Farmington Township, the office he held until his official retirement two weeks ago.

THE FORMER judge is a past president of both the Michigan Justice of Peace Association and the Oakland County Judicial Association.

He is the author of two pieces of State legislation which have proven extremely helpful in the

ON JULY 4, Judge Allen C. Ingle officially turned over to his successor, Robert H. Nelson (right) the gavel which is symbolic of the office of justice of peace. He also turned over the last of more than 50 cartons and trunks of court records. Earlier Ingle's court clerk, Patricia Hampton, spent many hours with Nelson's legal secretary, Mrs. Grace Beals, giving her instructions in the use of the many forms and reports used in a justice court.

Saturday was a beautiful day for a wedding, a fact for which two Old Homestead families were extremely grateful.

The first wedding took place at 11:00 a.m. at Mt. Olive Lutheran Church in Detroit, when Patricia Blackham and James Toner were married. Mr. Toner is a brother of Jean Radatz. A lawn reception and buffet supper were held at the Radatts home on Quaker town Lane for about fifty guests. The newlyweds will make their home in Dearborn.

AT SEVEN o'clock Saturday evening, Trudy Keel and Thomas Schomaker were united in holy matrimony in Outer Drive Faith Lutheran Church in Detroit. Trudy is the daughter of David and Dorothy Kull, her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schomaker of Detroit. Trudy's cousin, Nancy Keel was the maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Kay Muller and Jean Dreher, all of Detroit. Following the ceremony a lawn reception was held at the Kull home on Quaker town Lane. A canopy was erected so that refreshments were served out of doors. About 200 guests took part in the festivities. The newly married couple will reside in Hamtramck, Indiana while Mr. Schomaker completes his education in osteopathy. This wedding was of extreme interest to many of the children in the subdivision because Trudy was one of the teachers at Wooddale School last year as well as a neighbor who had done some baby-sitting prior to her graduation from college.

LAUREY BOHME arrived home last Wednesday after spending a pleasant two weeks at Camp Bentley which is north of Port Huron.

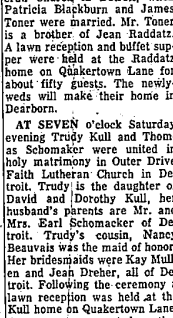

Dorothy Furlong entertained six of her friends and former Detroit neighbors last Wednesday for luncheon and an afternoon of pinocle.

Dick and Jean Lattimer have had more than their share of unhappiness in the past few weeks. They have been saddened by the loss of Jean's grandmother and also one of her uncles. Then on the Fourth of July Jean's teenage brother, Thomas Cashman, was critically injured when the boat in which he was sitting was rammed by another boat, throwing him into the water in the path of the propeller blades of the motors of both boats. Tom is a patient in Pontine General Hospital where he was taken for emergency surgery.

MIKE AND LORRY, children of Edmond and Florence Zeglen, greeted Larry and Lynne Bloom on Wednesday. The Bloom children, who are friends and former neighbors from Detroit, will be houseguests at the Zeglen home until Saturday.

On Thursday the members of the Pinocchio Club decided to spend their accumulated funds on an evening out. Tickets will be purchased for the August 6th performance of "Tunnel of Love" at the Northland Playhouse. Any member who finds that she cannot attend is requested to call Dorothy Furlong at GR. 4-0033.
