Now that fall school term is about to begin, many mothers of children just entering kindergarten plan to assist their children to and from school. Last year a very successful mother patrol program was instituted by the kindergarten mothers. These mothers took turns of duty at the potentially dangerous Power—10 Mile Road intersection. With this program in full swing no mother had to be concerned about their child's safety. This year, as last year, the mother patrol is being organized. A meeting will be held Thursday evening, September 3, at the home of Ruth Simmons, 31780 Leeland, at 8:30. If you are able to contribute a small portion of your time it is requested that you attend this meeting so the program may coincide with the opening of school September 10. If you are interested and are unable to attend, please call Ruth Simmons at GR. 4-4599.
THE BRENZ family of Beacon covered quite a bit of Michigan territory during their recent one-week vacation. The itinerary of Wally, Rita, Debbie, 7, Jimmy, 4, Greg, 3, and Teri Lynn, 2, included crossing the Mackinac Bridge and stop-offs at the Tahquamenon Falls, Marquette (where they went through the prison), Nauswan, Mackinac Island and Indian River. Swimming in three of the five Great Lakes made their vacation even more enjoyable.
Claiming that it's cooler in their hometown of Miami Beach, Florida, were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bentley, recent guests at the home of Ken and Sherrie Hill on Leeland. When the Bentleys stopped to see the Hills they were en route South, accompanied by Koski, of Wakeland, Michigan, who visited the better part of the week.
The Niepoth Nine of Ely Court, were glad to get home to beds with clean sheets after a very "sandy" week at an east Tawas cottage on Lake Huron. Ed, Shirley, Don, 11, Margaret, 8, Sue, 7, Mary Anne, 6, Patty, 5, Carol, 3, and Joe, 1 had a wonderful time away from the daily routine.
DOING THEIR CHRISTMAS shopping early were the guests at Peg Fleming's toy demonstration Tuesday, August 18. Though the thermometer said it was definitely summer, the thoughts of many mothers of Lamars were on the winter holidays.
The Trombleys (Ken, Ruth, Pam, Barbara, Chris and Craig) of Leeland spent their vacation camping at a state forest in Lewiston. A wonderful time was had even though they had none of the modern conveniences. Swimming every day offset the few discomforts. The Trombleys even tried their luck at trout fishing but make the claim that there just isn't enough fish when you split one trout six ways! A harrowing experience they won't forget was when their car, boat and trailer got stuck in the wilds of the north woods. After expending considerable effort they were able to move the car but had to leave the rest until someone could be located to pull out the boat and trailer.
SUMMER GUESTS by the score have traveled the route to the home of Ralph and Norma Brillinger on Leeland. Relatives from as far as California and Washington have enjoyed seeing the Brillinger family. The most recent guests were Norma's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koski, of Wakeland, Michigan, who visited the better part of the week.
Dee Koller, originally from Boston, had a touch of homesickness when she was the luncheon guest of Lorraine Frankford of Leeland Monday. Special fare was a feast of cranberry, a familiar sight in the East, brought back to Lorraine from Baltimore, Maryland, by her brother, Frank Kalsky.
Bill and Betty Penn and their two sons, Larry, 5, and Daniel, 6, of Marblehead, recently returned home from a week's vacation on Mullitt Lake near Cheboygan. When Larry recovered from the flu he had unfortunately contracted, the whole family was able to enjoy the remaining days swimming, fishing and boating.
THE CHABALA family of Leeland (Ed, Mary Ellen, Craig, 4, and Stephen, 3) spent seven wonderful weeks visiting Ed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Chabala, in Holtzdale, Pennsylvania. The boys were so enthralled, they would gladly have spent another seven weeks at Grandpa's and Grandma's.
The neighbors of Lloyd and Margaret Knoph of Marblehead had a grand time at the get-together Saturday evening. Although the guests were unaware of it, they were actually celebrating Lloyd's birthday. Dancing highlighted the evening for the Engstroms, Sutherlands, Williams, Frankfords, Goetts, Brothertons, Topinkis, and a number of the Knoph's relatives.

3 Local Girls Attend Midwest Catholic Action Summer School

The trio consisted of Christine Maltes, 2414 Farmington Rd.; Kathy McMenemy, 27949 Greenwillow; and Helen Urbain, 22816 Farmington Road. Among the many activities of the girls were conferences and workshops on problems of youth with special discussion sessions on several topics.
