Open House at Longacre Set

A Christmas open house will be held this Sunday, Dec. 20, at the Longacre elementary school from 2 to 4 p.m. The school has been appropriately decorated for the occasion and a tape recorder will be used to pipe background music into all rooms over the public address system; it was revealed. All classrooms have participated in making the tape.

Hope is expressed that all community residents and especially parents of students attending the school would find time to stop in for a short visit.

Michigan State Highway Department engineers say an average of 16,500 barrels of cement is used in the construction of the average mile of rural limited access expressway.

Yule Cauliflower

Cauliflower can come to the table with a Christmas look. Home economists at Michigan State University suggest you serve cauliflower with a cheese sauce or a cream sauce. To either sauce, add strips of red pimento and green pepper.

One of the most economical vegetables you can serve is cabbage. Home economists at Michigan State University say it usually figures out to three cents a serving.

Christmas Brings Back Birthday Party

The celebration of Christmas has brought back the birthday party.

To the early Christians, it was unthinkable to celebrate one's birthday—much less the birthday of Christ. Birth meant the assumption of original sin and frequently the beginning of a life of persecution and perhaps martyrdom.

Birthday festivities, moreover, were a pagan custom. The Pharos of Egypt and Herod celebrated their birthdays, as the Bible relates. But it was sacrifice even to suggest that a Divine Being had a birthday.

In the 300's, however, this attitude was beginning to change. World Book Encyclopedia reports that in the year 354 the Bishop of Rome declared December 25 to be the anniversary of the birth of Christ.

But it took another pagan ritual to help establish Christmas. The ancient peoples of Europe had been accustomed to celebrating the winter solstice, when the sun seems to return to the Northern Hemisphere, in late December. The pagan feast commemorating the victory of light over darkness was simply replaced by the Christian festival honoring the "Light of Life."

By the end of 1961 a motorist will be able to drive non-stop from Detroit to the Indiana state line on the I-94 (US-42) expressway without being exposed to traffic snarls or traffic from intersecting roads.

THE CHILDREN from 8 through the teens are to meet at the Zegen home at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 23rd, for the holiday through the subdivision. Reservations for this party are also requested. The phone numbers are the same as above. Details for both parties are in the notices that each resident has received.

About 100,000 gallons of bituminous materials and other petroleum products goes into the construction of the average mile of limited access expressway in Michigan.
