Pre-Game Sale Of Tickets for CHS-FHS Tilt

One of the highlights of the season for local basketball fans will be the January 16 meeting of the Falcons and Trojans on the Clarensville court.

Clarensville school officials stated today that they were concerned over the possibility of being unable, due to the size of the gymnasium, to accommodate all the persons who might wish to attend the game.

It has been decided, therefore, to offer tickets in advance of the game to assure seating to as many interested students and adults as is possible. In order to do this, pre-game tickets will be on sale from January 1 through January 14, in both high school offices.

Adults who are interested in attending the game are urged to buy tickets in advance at either the Farmington or Clarensville High School.

All seats will be held until 8 p.m. on the night of the game. Those not claimed by that time will be sold. Ticket sales at the door on game night to whatever seats have not been sold during the advance sale. Junior-Varsity game time is 7 p.m.

ENTHUSIASTIC cheerleaders are as much a part of a basketball game as peanuts and cracker-jacks are a part of a big league baseball game. Farmington high school only has some very enthusiastic girls to lead the student body in cheers but some very pretty ones as well.

Falcons Win One in Xmas Cage Tourney

The Farmington Falcons salvaged at least some respect in the Northwest Suburban Christmas Basketball Tournament, which was held at Garden City 61-37 in a consolation contest.

The victory came after two setbacks, the first a 24-20 defeat by Inkster Roosevelt and the second a 71-50 defeat at the hands of Southfield.

Leading the Falcons in their one-sided win over Garden City were Bill Smith and Harvey Chapman, each with 17 points to their credit.

Livonia Bentley proved an unkind host for the tournament; this year. The Livonia quintet took the tournament on ice when they swept past Inkster Roosevelt, 48-28, in the final round of play last Wednesday.

Teams taking part in the tournament were Redford Union, Jackson, Inkster Roosevelt, Bentley and Garden City.

Briar Hills KATHY KINLEY MA. 6-641

The tree and decorations have been put away, the children are back in school, and now Mom can get at the ironing stacked up since before Christmas. Life is back on a more even pace after the heavy holiday entertaining. Briar Hill was buzzing with activity throughout the season.

The Furlings on Northwest, held an open house on Christmas Sunday for some of their neighbors. Rosemary's mother of Cincinnati, Ohio, has been here over the holidays.

The Palmers, also opened their home on Christmas Sunday to friends and their families.

THE NEW YEAR was ushered in by many families and friends of Briar Hill. Ted and Betty Harriman helped welcome the new year. The Harrimans, Betty and Hank Jones watched Father Time go out with a host of friends. Both Palmers and Keadys gave family New Year's Eve parties. Children were included in these parties and needless to say, they felt quite grown up.

Parties continued after the New Year. Don and Doris Harman had a supper party for a few friends a week ago. Wednesday, Elsie and Al Vance held Open House Sunday for about 10 of their friends.

Quite a few folks either had out of town company or traveled over the holidays. Diane Condon's family of Chicago has been here over Christmas and New Year's. Sue and Norm Fleming went to Ohio to be with Sue's folks over Christmas. The Fredrick's had Jeffrey's father and Margaret's were included in these parties and needless to say, they felt quite grown up.

Happy Birthday was sung to Debby Bramlage by 5 of her Dearborn friends this past week. Debbie became 11 on Dec. 30th. We also celebrated birthday greetings to her brother, Don Jr. who celebrated his 14th on Jan. 5th.

Very pretty ones as well. Although it was Christmas vacation time, the cheerleaders were still there last week to cheer the Falcons on in action in the Christmas Basketball tournament.

At Home in Old Homestead

Guests at the home of Lee and Isabel North over the Christmas weekend were Isabel's sister, brother-in-law, and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coles, Billy, 5, and Lori, 4. The Coles arrived from their home in Rodney, Ontario, on Christmas Day and remained with the Norths until Sunday.

On Tuesday, December 28, the girls arrived home from the Christmas weekend. The girls were the guests of honor at a surprise birthday party. Marge had invited thirty-two of the girls' friends to a buffet supper without his knowledge.

FRANK AND DOROTHY Turlington returned on Tuesday from an eighteen day tour of Mexico. They were in the States for the first time in many years. They had a good supply of yappy memories. They left Old Homestead on December 11 for Mexico City where they spent two days. From there they took them to Acapulco, Taxco, Uruapan, San Luis Potosi, Mexico City for Christmas, and back to Veracruz before leaving for home. The Furlings spent Christmas in a private home and so were able to see and hear the traditional Mexican Christmas Fiesta. They were very enthusiastic about the children's part in the celebration, the safety and decorations. Frank and Dorothy visited some of the night clubs and many of the shops. In addition to a dress and a skin jacket Dorothy brought back many other items for gifts to her family.

Edmund and Florence Zelen's daughter Sue became two on Dec. 20. The high point of the quiet family party was the birthday cake which had been baked, baked, and decorated by her six year old sister, Lucy. Lucy used ingredients and equipment in a baking set she received for Christmas.

FARMINGTON HILLS MRS. DAVID KRINGS GR. 6-641

Melissa Reiff of South Lyons was host at a dinner party last Friday evening to the members of her club. Those attending from Farmington were Mary Doyle, Ann Sonnsmith, Marilyn Johnson, Marilyn Tighe and the guests: George David Krings, Bruce Horner and Myron Archambault.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Johnson were the New Year's Eve guests of the Jack Fitzharris family in Ypsilanti. Both the Fitzharris and Johnsons attended a party Saturday evening of a former classmate and Escanaba, Michigan, at his Walded Lake.

On Christmas day the dinner guests at the Dews on Doherty were Irene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morris of Dearborn; and on New Year's Eve the Dews returned the visit, when the Morris had a large gathering of relatives.

THE WILLIAM Camerons of Bigwood, Mich., had their open house last Wednesday evening for neighbors and friends. The Charles Audettes, George Sullivan, Donald MacKillops, Cyril Johnson and Gerald Applebees were among those partying there.

Friends of Mrs. Robert Walden in the subdivision wish to extend their sympathy to her over the death of her sister, Corrine.

We bid welcome to the William Bairds and their two daughters, who have moved into the former Thomas Lane home on Shadyridge. The house, which was ablaze with Christmas lights and decorations made a cheerful glow during the holiday season.

The David Krings gathered at the home of the Wesley Siders on Glastonbury Road, Detroit, along with other friends for their New Year's Eve party. The evening began with supper at 8 o'clock followed by an evening of games and dancing.

THE SUNDAY before Christmas the David Krings, together with other members of the committee of the Cotton Swing Social Dancers of Reform Presbyterian Church, gathered at the home of the Harlan Rows on Longshore for dinner and a business meeting to lay plans for the second half of the season's dancing, and to have a Christmas party. Last Saturday evening the same group met at the home of the Krings for a work shop to practice new dances—square and rounds.

LATE FRIDAY night Don and Irene Barbi said goodbye to Irene's brother and his family, Bruce and Jean Christiansen and their children Nancy, 5, Sally, 14, and Bradley, 6, who were the guests of the Barbis. They arrived at the Barbi home on December 29 for a four day visit which included the New Years holiday.

Girl Scout Activities

The Troop 1003, under the leadership of Mrs. Schukins and Mrs. Bedson, made Christmas presents for their Troop on Dec. 19. They took salt boxes and painted them and filled them with sand and wrote a verse on the outside telling their Troop not to rush his motor when stuck, but to use this "Handy Sandy". For mother the girls made stationery by using spatulas. They used leaves for they purchased at the Laura Lee Doll Gadget Factory. They also made a picture frame of popsicle sticks and put rick-rack around it for their parents for Christmas. They had their Christmas party Dec. 21 and then mailed their presents.

The girls wanted to dress dolls for the Goodfellows, but the dolls were all gone. They hope to do so next year. Mrs. Fred Martin is doing a wonderful job in helping and planning for this Troop.

TROOP 212, under the leadership of Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Fellows, are having a lot of fun getting ready for camping and doing badge work. They are going caroling at Dorden Home, Inc. for Convalescents and Aged. Wednesday evening the girls also made corn poppers, coffee can and coat hangers.

TROOP 212, under the leadership of Mrs. Pebley and Mrs. Dennison of St. Paul's Lutheran School, visited the Ford Rotunda on Dec. 1. The mothers who went with the girls were Mrs. Pebley, Mrs. Dennison, Mrs. Stollaker, Mrs. Shafer and Mrs. Dinnis (committee). The girls visited Santa and the girls exhibited New Year's who have joined the troop are Jean Denison and Dale Wallman. The girls held a Christmas party Dec. 21. On Dec. 7, they made candy cane decorations for their parents.

BROWNIE TROOP 1005, under the leadership of Mrs. Berkeley and Mrs. Zeid, have been working on their doll dresses there designs that they collected in the fall.

For Thanksgiving the girls made centerpieces of pumpkins with using dried materials from the out-of-doors. Then for Christmas the girls used evergreen, cones and ornaments. They had their choice of making wreaths or else an arrangement for the door or fireplace. They also made their mother and Dad a Christmas card using stencils cut out from old Christmas cards. Their Christmas party Dec. 21 and then mailed their presents on construction paper.

Then on Dec. 27 the troop had their Christmas party at the home of Carol Bedson. The girls went out Christmas caroling. This was the troops first experience in caroling and all the girls enjoyed it very much. The troop committee members served the refreshments. The girls had hot chocolate, potato chips, ice cream and Christmas cookies. They played games and exchanged gifts. The girls surprised both Mrs. Schukins and Mrs. Bedson by giving them a beautiful bone-china cup and saucer.
