At Home in Old Homestead

Jacqueline Davis

GR. 4-1230

A week ago today Paul and 'n'lin sons of Jack and 'n'lin, celebrated their birthday. The following day Anne Leiden became three years old.

Mary Ann Klot, Mark Wiedman, Robin and Jay Raack, Charles Spooner, Kim Pearson, Debra Carless, and Lorraine Radlitz joined the three Robt children at a party on Friday in honor of the fifth birthday of Susan Shook. Susie's birthday cake was baked and decorated with a 'Baby's Angel' doll surrounded by small dolls. By her grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Peters of Farmington. Al's parents, Mr. and Mrs. MacGillivray, of Detroit, joined in the celebration Friday evening, and Ruth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Peters, were Susie's guests on Sunday.

THE APPLESEEDS dance on Saturday night was attended by eleven couples. The group met at the home of Bob and Peg Gordon in Kendallwood. Hostesses for the evening were Mary Trifoli and Kay Humm. The business portion of the meeting was devoted to a discussion of a system to fairly rotate the members' turns at serving refreshments and providing a place for the dance. In addition to this it was agreed that the next couple would have to be raised to cover expenses.

The Old Homestead Chairman of the March of Dimes, Jean Radlitz, wants to remind our residents that the collection in this subdivision will take place during the daytime on January 28, rather than at night as is the custom in more populated areas.

JAY AND DOLLY Greblich and three other couples spent the weekend at Mt. Michigan. The group had a cabin in a beautiful area on a trout stream. However, the time was taken up skiing rather than fishing. They went to the Snow Valley Ski Club near Gaylord to ski.

The Greblichs report that the slopes were icy and luckily there were no injuries among their group even though some of the party were new at the sport.

On Monday Rose and Dominic Amato and their sons, Peter and Donald, moved from their home on Quaker Lane to a new home on Flanders in Farmington Acres.
