Using new knowledge speeded by your heart-act, surgeons did "fix" Debby's heart. She's now a happy, healthy child, with a heart that's good as new.

Writes Best Story in 5th Grade Class

EDITORS NOTE: As a result of a program describing a sixth grader's trip to Alaska, Mr. Wilcox's fifth grade class at the Alameda School wrote newspaper stories relating the highlights of the event. The following story was chosen to be submitted to the Enterprise for publication. It was written by Phillip McCallough.

During a study of Alaska in Mr. Wilcox's fifth grade class, the Alameda School, Ronnie Cleveland, a sixth grader, told of his three week trip to Alaska during the summer of 1959. Ronnie brought a movie and some souvenirs to show during the program which was presented on February 9.

Ronnie and several other boys were chaperoned by Mr. Ruhn, a Hazel Park teacher. The movie pointed out several pictures of the scenery. The souvenirs he brought back were a pair of slippers, two totem poles, a scrap book of pictures he took, an Eskimo doll he got from an Eskimo, and a little book about the state.

They started from Detroit and followed the Mississippi to the Missouri. Next they went to Montana, Canada, and back to Seattle. At Seattle they took a boat to the inside passage of the Ketchikan to the coast and finally to Fairbanks.

Ronnie's talk was enjoyed by everyone. Perhaps in some future year a member of our class will take this trip.
