10 Mile PTA Plans Lecture On Astronomy

Have you noticed how well informed your child is in the 5th, or 6th grade, when the conversation turns to the sun, moon, or stars? Perhaps you have seen just a bit of knowledge when your youngster begins to spout all sorts of interesting statistics.

Or is your child still in the first three grades, where you still feel secure in the knowledge that you still know more than he does, and can still answer most of his questions? Lucky you! But don't expect this to last. Very soon you will find yourself stammering, and rushing to the library for answers.

Because your P.T.A. realizes that astronomy is fascinating to nearly everyone, it has engaged the very well known Dr. W. Cole to speak to you at the P.T.A. meeting on May 16th. Dr. Cole's subject will be Astronomy in the Space Age and through his interesting talk, you will find the mysteries of the heavens unfolding before your eyes.

YOU may understand clearly the many things which, before, were vague to you. For your own pleasure and education, you will find this evening's talk more than worth while. We urge you to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to be entertained and instructed by one of Michigan's foremost experts.

Dr. Cole has appeared before many groups in the area and has been featured at our own Farmington School's teacher's Science Workshop this past winter.

Be sure to sit aside Monday evening, May 16, at 8 p.m. to attend the 10 Mile School P.T.A. meeting. Any interested adults are most welcome and refreshments will be served by the room mothers.

Charm Chats

By: Betty Hansen

The "bulky look" may be all right for sweaters but not for your hair. Without bulk or excessive curl, the hair can be fashioned along straight and narrow lines that are smoothly polished. Two basics established this effect: a strategic haircut and a light body permanent. First the hair is carefully tapered and blended to mold neatly to the head. Shorter lengths on top are translated into bangs or brushed back into one of the new partless styles.

It will take a brand new hairdo, to complement the current fashions. Let us create the hairdo that was meant for you alone.
