Cache Cashmere While Cooking

As fabric experts, drycleaners get all sorts of problems presented to them. Some are amazing, other amusing. One drycleaner, a member of the National Institute of Drycleaning, told of receiving a tan cashmere coat covered with huge food stains. The coat had been "battered" with beans when the cook's pressure cooker exploded. Why the cook wore a cashmere coat was not explained. The Institute advises other attire.

Nancy Jayne Beal Wed Saturday By Candlelight

Nancy Jayne Beal became the bride of Paul Roger Hoofnagle in a double ring ceremony last Saturday at the Bushnell Congregational Church at Southfield and Grand River in Detroit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leiland J. Beal of Farmington and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hoofnagle of Farmington.

The bride was attired in a gown of white organza with a satin styled with a fitted bodice with an empire waistline and scooped neckline. A butterfly bow secured the chapel train to the floor length skirt adorned with wide Venice lace. She wore short white gloves and carried a bouquet of white stephanotis and American Lilies.

JUDY HOOFNAGLE, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a Dior blue taffeta gown over matching taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, short shirred sleeves, scooped neckline and bonnet skirt with matching headpiece and shoes. She carried a white lace fan accented with sweethearts roses.

Bridesmaids were Nancy Trezenta of Bloomfield Hills, Suzanne Wagner of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and Bredra Markey of Highland Park, Illinois. They wore white lace with accents of pink rubrum lilies and were attired in gowns identical to the bride.

Lynn J. Briggs of Huntington Woods served as best man. Robert Foley of Stamford, Conn., Fred Hitchens of McKeesport, Pa., and Dale Davis of Dearborn were the ushers.

DRESSED in Dior blue organza over royal blue taffeta was the flower girl, Christine Beal, sister of the bride.

The bride's mother wore an ice blue organza sheath over matching satin. The skirt and fitted bodice were accented by embroidery and organza roses and her matching accessories were complemented with a corsage of white stephanotis and American Lilies.

The mother of the groom wore lavender organza over matching taffeta and a lace bodice with full gathered skirt. Her corsage was made up of white stephanotis and pink sweethearts roses.

Following the candlelight wedding ceremony presided over by Dr. John Forsyth, a reception took place at the Botsford Inn Coach House.

IMMEDIATELY after the reception the new Mr. and Mrs. Hoofnagle left on a wedding trip to New England. They plan to return July 23 to East Lansing, where both will attend a summer school session at Michigan State University.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Farmington High School and the groom a 1954 graduate. Both went on to MSU to complete their educations.

Attend Albion Study Program

On June 27th Mrs. Harold Humble, Mrs. Richard Nichols, Mrs. Bert Leach, Mrs. Myron Meyers and Mrs. James Jones (attending as District Representatives) will attend the Summer School of Missions at Albion College, Michigan. This program of study and worship courses is through July 1st. These women stayed at the Susannah Wesley Dormitory on campus.

Among the many speakers and teachers of the program were Dr. Devor, who taught the Bible Study Course on Acts, and Mrs. J. S. Rodewager who taught on the theme "Heritage and Horizons."

41 Families Participate In Farmington Acres Picnic

Forty-one families attended the Farmington Acres Family Picnic Sunday at Kensington Park.

The men and boys joined in sack races which were won by Chuck Pelt and Tom Mitchell. The boys' shoe kicking contest was won by Elmer Blatz and Marie Miller kicked her shoe the farthest in the women's contest.

Another competition for couples was the egg throwing contest. LaDonna Black dropped the first egg and Senora and Dick Porter were the winners.

The children entered backward races, a pinwheel grab, a balloon breaking contest and a wheelbarrow race.

A BASEBALL game completed the day's activities with Jerry Forbes demonstrating a powerful pitching arm.

Demand Quality In Dry Cleaning

What's the most important thing to look for in choosing a drycleaner?

There are many factors, says the National Institute of Drycleaning, but probably the most important is to make sure your drycleaner really cares about and respects your clothes and household items.

In many ways the personal care your drycleaner should give your clothes is similar to the care your physician gives to you.

In fact, many people consider their drycleaner as a "clothes doctor."

VFW Ladies to Convene in Aug.

Almost every organization with a long history has one leader, usually long dead, who is so closely identified with the group that she has become a legend.

For the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will hold their national convention in Detroit in August, the legend is personified by a woman who is very much alive—more so, in fact, than many women half her age.

She is Bessie Hanken, convention director and past Auxiliary president who will arrive Aug. 7 to set up shop in the Statler-Hilton, headquarters hotel for the 47th national Auxiliary convention Aug. 21-26.

She also will be at the Statler July 26-27 to conduct final meetings with local convention committees.

This will be the seventh national convention Bessie has directed, and the 37th she has attended as a delegate. She has an unusually strong interest in the Detroit convention because it will center around the Auxiliary project closest to her heart, the V.F.W. National Home for the children of deceased or disabled veterans, at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

Girl Scout News

Several fund raising projects throughout the year enabled nine girls from Girl Scout Troop 258 and their leaders to enjoy an interesting and scenic trip to the Ship to the Mountains.

The 11 day camping trip included a trip in the mountains on horseback, several hikes to scenic spots of historic interest, day spent browsing through souvenir shops in the Cherokee Indian village.

ONE OF the highlights of the trip was a ride aboard the Twelvile Railroad, one of the last operating narrow gauge railroads east of the Mississippi.

During the ride the train was attacked by Indians and held up by Jesse James.

Three days were spent in the Smokies camping with the bears. The clouds, 530 feet above sea level, and other night were spent in the Ann Bailey Girl Scout Camp in West Virginia.

The counselors and girls made the group feel right at home, showing that a girl scout is a friend to all and a sister to every other girl scout.

The girls who took the trip wish to express their gratitude to everyone who helped make it possible with a special thank you to Mrs. and Mrs. Beagan and Lois Leach who took them on the trip.

Flanning to buy a 60-star "flag" if so, don't ever worry about flying it dirty. Rather than have that happen most drycleaners voluntarily offer to dryclean it for free between June 1-32 so it may have bright and clean for Flag Day (June 14) and other holidays.

This offer to give "New Glory for Old Glory" is a program co-sponsored annually by the American Legion and The National Institute of Drycleaning. It is designed to encourage flag consciousness.

Florida Couple Exchange Vows

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Lieb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Lieb of 1024 Lakewood Court, Lakeland, Fla., and Charles Alan Bevis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Bevis of Key West, Florida, was solemnized Saturday, July 2nd, at 8 p.m. in the First Methodist Church, Farmington, Michigan.

Rev. Robt. Sceriat performed the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Thomas, organist of the church. Arrangements of chrysanthemums and pink sweetheart roses carried out the bride's chosen colors of pink and white.

WEARING A traditionally formal gown of lace and organza, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride's gown had a bodice of lace with a sweetheart neckline. Her full skirt with deep lace insert had a single flounce at front forming a back forming a brief train.

The bride wore a crown pearl tiara with finger tip veil of illusion trimmed with lace. She carried a nosegay of white sweetheart rose buds and pink chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother wore a deep blue net with an entry level colored dress with lighter blue trim.

Response High To Art Exhibit

The committee for the Arts and Crafts Exhibit, held in Farmington, reports a most gratifying response to last week's request for exhibitors.

Mrs. Wanda Pusey stated that the majority of calls were requests for the following information:

The exhibit is open to anyone who wishes to exhibit original works in oil, water colors, graphics, sculpture, jewelry or ceramics; all entries must be suitably framed or mounted. There will be an entry fee of 50c per item; a 10 percent commission will be charged on any item sold; and each exhibitor will be limited to five entries.

The exhibition will be held July 31 through August 7 at the Farmington - Universalist Church, 2306 1/2 Warner Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Beagan and Lois Leach who took them on the trip.

There will be a judging and prizes awarded for the works deemed best. Those who intend to enter are requested to call Stanley Hench, MA. 4-2070, or Mrs. Wanda Pusey, GR. 4-5009, so that space may be reserved.

Convertible Coifs

The trend is toward two-way styles, worn either high on the crown or down in a soft bob that's curled slightly at the ends. A "calm" almost straight look is preferred. The style works best with a permanent for manageability. Women like convertible hair coifs so they can vary their coifs, particularly for after-five events when there's a more glamorous accent on the personality.

The secret is on an attractive as well as becoming coif for you. It will take expert cutting and shaping to create the wanted effect. Make an appointment now.

Jeanine Hinson Wed to Robt. Johnson Saturday

Jeanine Hinson, 857 Lakeshore Road, Grosse Pointe and Robert Johnson, 32493 Shadyridge Road, Farmington, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony last Saturday at Our Lady of Sorrows with Fr. Richard Lavin, pastor of the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Lieutenant Gerald Hinson, was attired in a ballerina length bouffant gown of silk organza with a shirred neckline and cup sleeves. Her elbow length veil was capped with a bow of net and orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white roses.

Her maid of honor, Sandra McElroy, and bridesmaids Sally Kaler and Margaret Oza, were dressed in bouffant dresses of orchid taffeta having oversized and bodices of white organza. Sashes and headbows with veils were of matching orchid shade. They carried bouquets of white daisies, carnations and orchid plumes.
