FARMINGTON, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1962 SECTION B

The Women of Kendallwood Farms

by Lillian Axelson

November, and the jubilant festive season has arrived and along with it the excuse for entertaining, every one is feeling sociable and parties are bursting out all over. For the past months, sociability has been lulled into slow motion by the routine of day to day activities, and now suddenly the tempo picks up, for it is the beginning of our holiday season. We circulate waves of invitations, bidding friends to stop by, planning dinners for favorite guests, midnight lunches for neighbors and amid this feverish activity there are sure to be impromtu get togethers.

IF YOUR LUCKY these eight weeks of shopping, wrapping, decorating, cooking, cleaning and entertaining will be fun, adding renewed energy and zest to your life. But without a plan or a little know how, Jan. 15 could find you physically impaired with nerves worn to a frazzle and the house in utter chaos.

Fortunately for the members of The Women of Kendallwood Farms, this chaotic situation is impossible, for on Tuesday, November 27, the much sought after, Barbara Sutton, will present to them "Entertainment with a Flair". This quick witted fascinating woman, who instructs at the Y.W.C.A., will divulge pointers on Various phases of entertaining. Setting up a buffet table for 4 or 40, impromtu entertaining, where to begin and how to eliminate unnecessary chores. Drop in guests, how to handle the situation, what to whip up for a quick snack or a meal. Basic food preparation, ideas and short cuts., Formal sit down dinners, centerpieces and color coordination, all this and much more will be adroitly explained. Party, of course, should mean something special but an imaginative menu and a relaxed hostess, does much to make your guests feel special.

WITH HER TRIED and true and some brand new ideas, Mrs. Sutton will show you how to save money and time while becoming a more graceful and gracious hostess. Her suggestions are not only for the comfort and pleasure of your guests but also to help you get full satisfaction and enjoyment from your own efforts and planning.

There will be a question and answer period . . . so be certain to bring pencil and paper for I'm sure you will want to take pages of notes.

The Detroit City Bank at 10 Mile and Orchard Lake Road on Tuesday, November 27, at 8 p.m. will be the turning point of your social life, for Barbara Sutton will make us aware of the correct way, and the easy way, of giving thanks for celebrating the arrival of Kriss Kringle.

Offer Preview Of Xmas Walk

The Hill and Dale Garden Club Christmas Walk, to be held on December 16 from 3 to 9 p.m., is taking shape and we thought you might enjoy a sneak preview.

We chose the home of Mrs. C. Parker Glick as the illustration. This is one of ten homes you will visit on the Christmas Walk. Many of you know Merle Glick as the past President of the Kendallwood Farms Women's Club. And, as busy a person as she is, her ideas for her home decorations for the Christmas Walk are well organized.

"CHRISTMAS WITH today's Grandma" is the theme she has co-ordinated for this very special occasion. You will know you have reached the home of "today's Grandma" if, on the door, your eyes are greeted with Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy as the Christmas door decor.

As you walk into her home, your nostrils will be filled with the glorious odor of old fashioned ginger bread cookies baking in the oven. At the kitchen table, the pleasant workings of the grandchildren's attempts at cookie baking will greet your eyes.

The table in the family room will be set for a "coffee break" with mugs and pottery of which Mrs. Glick is very proud. They were created by her son, John Glick, who has received an award from the Tiffany Foundation Grant for research and study — an award which was given to only five U.S. Potters.

This is only a peek at what's in store. You won't be disappointed if you are looking for traditional Christmas decorations and holiday arrangements.

Adults may purchase tickets for this exciting "Christmas Walk" from Ticket Chairman, Mrs. Richard Martens GR 4-5521. The funds will be used to continue a very worthwhile undertaking, the Garden Therapy Program for Special Classes of children who are in need of this program, at the Farmington Schools.

Area Blue Star Mothers Plan Dec. Schedule

December 19 a group of Mothers will help Hospital Chairman Fern Ramage distribute the Christmas packages she has prepared for the veterans who are patients at the Northville Sanatorium.

THESE PACKAGES will include a one dollar bill, a package of cigarettes, cookies baked by the Mothers among other goodies to help make a hospital Christmas a little less dreary.

The December 20 meeting will be election day and Christmas party day. It will begin with a Pot Luck Lunch and include exchange of gifts for which each is asked to pay one dollar. Mothers are reminded to remember their Secret Pals with a nice gift for Christmas.

Please be at the Hall at 11 a.m. so everything can get going on schedule. Mothers who are baking cookies are reminded to see that Fern has them by Dec. 17 for packaging.

First Graders Visit Bk. Fair

First grade pupils in Room 5 at the Flanders School visited the ninth Annual Children's Book Fair at the Community Arts Building of Wayne State University on Tuesday, November 20.

The class was accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Marion Spencer, and five parents, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Ersthaler, Mrs. Jessup, Mrs. Oakes and Mrs. Shaffer.

THE PURPOSE OF the field trip was to acquaint the class with the new books in children's literature and renew the old and familiar ones. The students were placed into small groups with one adult accompanying each group. These groups were permitted to browse at leisure throughout the display area to give them an opportunity to make selections for the school library.

Their selections were noted by adults and given to the teacher. As many of these selections as possible will be ordered for the library.

The school library was set up for the students' use. It is the belief of Mrs. Spencer that when children have a voice in the selection of library materials they will make more and better use of them.

At the close of the field trip each participant received a Children's Book Fair souvenir book mark and newspaper. This was the second field trip taken by the class this school year.
