The International Nickel Company's new Thompson nickel-producing operation in Northern Manitoba uses as much daily hydro-electric power as a city of 250,000 people.

News from Kimberley

JUDY BURNS
GR. 4-3112

A big weekend coming up - the local beauty shops are booked solid and the dress stores depleted of finery as Kimberley gals prepare for the dance tomorrow night, December 8. Late ticket buyers better hurry, as no tickets will be sold at the door - they must be purchased in advance, but will be available until almost zero hour. Meadowbrook; by the way, is on Eight Mile, three or four miles after a right turn from Middlebelt. See you there

Last week's lament to the hungry hunters hereabouts resulted in a number of phone calls reporting success, and it now seems we had a good proportion of venison in the subdivision.

DOUG SHAW HUNTED with a party of four men at Grand Lake near Alpena, and shot his first deer - a six-pointer, 150 pounds, on opening day!

Joe Emerson and a party of five men brought home four deer from Ontagon, in the upper Peninsula. Joe's beauty, an eight-pointer, will not be immortalized by taxidermy, as "George", Joe's first deer, already has the place of honor over the family fireplace.

Gus Heuer, one of our newer residents, hunted with a party of 12 men at Turnes Towers, a private estate near Curran. Gus was gone only three days, and returned with a 130 pound doe. This is old hat to the Heuers, as Gus has many trophies from hunting trips in past years, Charlene reports that it would be unusual for Gus to return clean-fendered

The Don Reynolds family rented a cabin at Rogers City, right on Lake Huron. While Teresa prepared Thanksgiving dinner and the children played in the snow Don hunted alone on private land and triumphed over a small doe of about 70 pounds. This was Don's fifth success, for a total of three does, two bucks (one a spike-horn).

Martha and Chuck Hendries were at nearby Grand Lake the same weekend, and the two couples were able to spend an evening on the town together. Teresa reports the long weekend was fun, but that it was nice to return to the southern-like clime of Detroit

As many of our residents are already aware, Paul Rankin of Wicklow and two of his daughters, Barbara and Patty, were involved in a horrible automobile accident on the evening of November 24. The Rankin car, hit broadside at Nine Mile and Middlebelt, was totally demolished. Paul suffered two broken ribs, and Barbara, 12, a concussion and a broken pelvis. Little Patty, 7, was listed as critical with internal injuries and a concussion. Fortunately, both girls are now out of danger, but face a long, slow recovery period.

PATTY AND BARBARA, Beechviewers, are in room 425 at St. Mary Hospital and would surely be delighted if you'd care to send a card. Paul, by the way, is no longer hospitalized but will not be able to return to his job as assistant principal in one of the Detroit schools for a while.

The terrible irony of the accident lies in the fact that Betty had incurred a minor accident the week before, and Paul and the girls were returning from getting a damage estimate on the car when this catastrophe struck. The whole subdivision sends greeting. Patty and Barbara - hurry home!

The Clarks of Middlebelt also had an accident of sorts last week when John's station wagon rolled down the driveway and across Middlebelt, coming to rest with the rear end settled deep in the ditch on the far side of the street, and the front end protruding into the north-bound lane.

John tried to stop the car when it began to roll, but it knocked him to the ground, ruined his new suit, and proceeded on its way. Many harrowing minutes passed, as it was dark and the heavy 6 p.m. traffic had to swerve to avoid the Clark station wagon. The police arrived in a swirl of blue lights and set up a road block and the tow truck then pulled the car straight forward into the driveway. The potential disaster was abated, and the only damage suffered were the painful scrapes John received trying to halt his determined Rambler.

The story I reported last week of Patty Kimbrough and Mary Ragnall's exciting trip to New York with the Y-Teen group has a sad ending - a strep throat kept Mary in bed at departure time, so she didn't get to go.

By the way, in the odd coincidence department was the November 29 Premiere Show on Channel 7 at 10 p.m. The principle character in the hour long program was named Mario Lombardi!

SPEAKING OF TV, many of you may have seen the Jackie Gleason Show at 7:30 p.m. on December 1. One of the skits was a satire on tag team wrestling, and featured one Lou Albano. Lou, a professional wrestler, is the brother-in-law of Len Tango of Middlebelt, and has wrestled often at the Olympia Arena here.

Lou was signed for the Gleason show after being spotted by a talent scout, and as a result of his December 1 performance has been signed to do four more Gleason shows. In addition, Lou will appear on a future Gary Moore Show and also on Naked City. Pat and Len Tango are mighty proud of Lou, and maintain it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy! Lou, who is 25, and his wife, Gerry, 23, live in Mount Vernon, New York with their two small children. Keep an eye on him - he's going places.

Several of our future glamor gals attended the annual Harvi's Teen Clinic this year. Cheryl Hedquist, daughter of Wally and Marion Barringer, Jan Witmer, Bonnie Breese, and Barbara Allen will take part in the graduation exercises tonight, December 6. Jan will act as a hostess, and Barbara and Cheryl will model for the parents attending the ceremony at Harvi's in the Farmington Plaza. The parents of the girls are mighty proud of their grown-up daughters.

Jan, by the way, modeled for Harvi's during the Teen Clinic on the floor of the shop, wearing a mite-sized five dress!

A NEW BRIDGE club has been organized in the subdivision, and held its first meeting on December 3 at Peggy Lukey's house on 11 Mile. Bidders present were Roberta Flackne, Dorothy Newman, Pat Colley, Patsy Smith, Marion Kilkka, Marion Jamieson, and Carol Stader.

The club, which will meet on the first Monday of every month, is planning a pre-dance cocktail party for their husbands. Nice gesture!

The welcome mat is aired this week for Charlene and Gus Heuer, new neighbors in the Whitehall on Kiltartan. The Heuer family, formerly of Allen Park, includes Pamela, 13, a student at Dunckel, Paulette, 11, and Patty, 9, Beechviewers, and Gunner, the Heuer's Weimaraner. Gus is a sales engineer for the Automotive Spring Corporation.

Welcome too for Dorotha and Otis Johnson, recently moved into the long-vacant Portland model on Middlebelt. The Johnson children are James, who lives in Detroit with his wife Nina, Karen, 12, a sophomore at Marquette University in Milwaukee, and Eric, 15, a student at Our Lady of Sorrows High.

Also included in the household are James' two children, Kim, 4, and Jimmy, 3, who are with the Johnsons part of the time, and Muggins, the big, beautiful Irish Setter who is there all of the time.

THE JOHNSONS, originally from West Virginia, have been Detroiters for 20 years and moved to Kimberley from the east side. Otis has his own distributing company, the Farnsworth Johnson Corporation.

Last but not least, welcome to Don and Mary Kenney, new neighbors in the Whitehall on Greythorne near Barwell. The Kenneys are one of our larger families, as there are seven junior editions - Jimmy, 12, Karen, 11, Eileen, 10, Mary Margaret, 9, David, 8, Anne, 4, and Jeffrey, 2. The family, formerly of Clawson, also includes a calico part-Siamese cat appropriately named Panorama.

Don is a PHD type doctor, and is an associate professor at the University of Detroit doing research for the government. Mary works with Don three days a week as his secretary, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Busy gal

Judy Zahler and Betty Witmer co-hosted a luncheon on November 28 to introduce Mary to her new neighbors. Jo Olson, Lynn Roth, Ruth Steele, Martha Joy, Ginger Rennell, Mary Ann Follebout, and Rosa Lombardi gathered at the Zahler home on Greythorne. Following lunch the girls played get-acquainted games, and Mary now feels quite at home among her new friends and neighbors.

Welcome to Kimberley

DAR Chapter Plans Meeting

"Around the Yule Log" is the theme for the Christmas meeting of the Three Flags Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution which will meet December 10 at the home of Mrs. Earl M. Kelly, 28430 Quail Hollow Rd., Farmington.

Serving as co-hostesses for the noon luncheon will be Mrs. K. M. Farnham, Lathrup Village and Mrs. John A. Stromer, Royal Oak.

THE PROGRAM will focus around a Christmas exchange.

Each member will bring an experience from a Christmas thought or a poem appropriate to the season. During the afternoon these pleasures of Christmas will be shared.

An exchange of dozens of fancy cookies and candies will conclude the social afternoon.

MAGNETIC LIFESAVERS

A powerful magnet of nickel, cobalt and aluminum alloy may be used to save lives on snowbound mountain areas. Inserted in the heel of a boot, the magnet can be traced by sensilive instruments through 10 feet of snow, thus making it possible to find buried skiers and mountain climbers.
