The Women's Association luncheon last Thursday was a very real success. 68 came to Birmingham Country Club for good fellowship and luncheon. The table decorations, made by Zella Missal, Helen Weightman, and Mary Tyghem, under the able guidance of Jo Thurston, were seasonal and most attractive. They were all welcomed as prizes when time came for the drawings.

DAVID BUSCH came home from N. Michigan in Marquette yesterday, and his sister from Western Michigan at Kalamazoo. They anticipate a wonderful time during the holidays.

Jimmy Davis will get home from Brigham Young U. in Utah this Saturday.

Dot Spillman's bronchial congestion proved to be pneumonia so she has been in the hospital longer than first anticipated. It may be she will be home by the time you read this. City's daughter-in-law has been helping out at home while Dot has been in the hospital. We all hope she will be well and able to enjoy a good Christmas day.

Sunday evening, Dec. 9, the Earl McDonalds had their annual Christmas party following the Christmas concert given by the Chancel Choir of the Calvary Methodist Church. A buffet supper was served to 68 as the choir members were invited to bring their families.

Tomorrow night they will entertain the Sr. High Youth Fellowship for a snack party following the groups' carolling. Then the following evening they will leave to spend Christmas in Florida with Mary's parents. Of course Greg and Claudia will go with them. They will be back Jan. 4.

We will be thinking of you as we lie on the beach at Walkiki.

Girl Scout News

Farmington Neighborhood Girl Scouts, as a Christmas service project, have adopted a needy family for whom they are providing food and toys.

Children's voices carolling in front of the Old Town Hall add an old-fashioned, cheerful note to the holiday atmosphere of Downtown Farmington.

Brownie Troop 36 held an inventory ceremony, December 5 at Ten Mile Road School. Mrs. R. Williamson, leader, and Mrs. D. Perkins, co-leader, presented pins to Alice Carley, Denise Darian, Lee Habicht, Mary Johansen, Amy Kirksey, Sue Lieb, Terri Nelson, Debbie Perkins, Nancy Redwood, Patricia Ryder and Ann Williamson.

Year pins were presented to Nancy Flinay, Maureen Jarvis, Peggy Kowalski, Cynthia Wolff and Debbie Woodward. Mothers of the troop were guests at the presentation and refreshments were served. This troop is working on gifts for parents for Christmas.

Several weeks ago, Mrs. Nauman, Sr., 78, flew to Indianapolis by jet as a birthday gift from George and Florence. She visited with nephews and nieces she hadn't seen in many years. A week later she returned by jet again.

Harriet Sample, who is on the Morning Bowling League, and a new high for series, when she bowled games of 178, 179 and 186 for a total of 543. She also very capably took care of the 3-10 split last Thursday morning.

Christmas decorated mounds were given at last week to the Morning Bowling League. The winners were Kaye Britton and Muriel McNitt who, if you didn't already know it, were the two winners at Thanksgiving time. Next week the ladies will be bowling for two point-nights. The week after that the League has a chance!

Watching the men bowl last Friday, I saw Harry Ramsey face a 4-6-40 split. One not seen very often, but he very calmly rolled his bowl and made it.

EVERYONE in the Robinson family on Old Bedford had chicken pox these past few weeks except father, Dorville. Betty had to abandon preparations for a Christmas party for friends. Then her parents met with a car accident on their way out here and they are home nursing bruises. Let's hope the Christmas party can be made up for.

Sue O'Brien of the United States Army Recruiting Service for the Novi, Farmington and Southfield areas, announced today that male applicants enlisting in the Army up until January 1 may be granted leave to allow them to remain home over the holidays.

Although the enlistees will be sworn in and placed on a full-pay status, they will not depart for basic training until after December 27.

Details on how young men may take advantage of the Christmas leave program may be obtained by phoning: GR 6-2699 or visiting the U. S. Army Recruiting Station located at Grand River at Middlebelt, Farmington.
