Handicapped Children Learn How to Bowl in Special League

(Editor's note: The following story was written by Enterpriser columnist Judy Burns who writes the weekly "This Is Kimberley" news column.) "The air is charged with excitement as when any bowling league assembles for competition, and there is the usual bustle of shoe changing, bagging and the usual pre-game conversation with the opposing team.

The New Frontier Blind Bowling League is an organized bowling league for blind children ever established, as far as is known. The league meets weekly at Star Lane, near Twelve Mile Road, where it was initiated by Mr. Frank Damico, manager and instructor at Star, in conjunction with Mr. Harry Hunter. Mr. Hunter, himself totally blind, has been instrumental in blind bowling in Detroit since 1940, and the Detroit Blind Bowling League in Detroit some years ago also pioneered the first organized bowling league for senior blind bowlers.

In 1962 Mr. Damico, with Mr. Hunter's help and encouragement, began to work with blind youngsters aged eight to fourteen from the downriver area.

FIVE MONTHS of instruction in bowling fundamentals and practice preceded the organization of the league. Mr. Damico initiated his young pupils, 50 percent of them blind, to the aid of the guide rail. After each child had thoroughly explored with his fingers the intricacies of the bowling equipment, he thereby formed a mental picture of the distances and limitations involved in achieving some pin fall, did actual ball rolling.

Today the league is in full swing. The youngsters are enthusiastic and find their way confidently around the bowling area with assistance. The blind children have an acute sense of hearing, and listen intently after releasing the ball to judge their own pin-fall. A sighted person is always present, however, to act as pin caller, indicating the exact number and position of remaining pins, and to act as scorer. The only other concession to their handicap is an ingenious guide rail projecting from the ball return to the line to aid the youngsters along the approach during ball delivery.

THE NEW FRONTIER Blind Bowling League consists of 15 totally blind youngsters, and four with partial sight (on percent vision), divided into six teams. Each team in addition has a sighted member in most instances a brother or sister of one of the team's blind children, who acts as captain and is responsible for the team. Each team is outfitted with regulation bowling shirts, emblazoned with the name of their sponsor, various merchants in the area. The sponsor covers the bowling expenses of his particular team, but during the five month instruction period prior to organization into a league Mr. Lyman Simon, owner of Star Lanes, opened the doors of his establishment to these youngsters with out charge. His generosity, coupled with Mr. Damico's dedication, made this league a reality. Instrumental in aiding Mr. Damico in the formation and continuation of this league is Mr. Ted Lennox, instructor of the blind at the Ann Visgor School, with an enrollment of about 775 from kindergarten through the seventh grade. Includes ten blind students from the downriver area, most of whom participate in the New Frontier Blind Bowling League. Mr. Lennox himself instructs his own pupils for half the day in fundamentals such as reading and writing in braille and typing, and his sighted parents spend the day in the classroom with the blind pupil in the classroom with sighted students on his own grade level.

Mr. Lennox estimates that the experience of bowling has benefited the blind youngsters in three very important areas. First, it gives the blind child and his sighted parents a special bond, as bowling is an activity in which the whole family can participate. Secondly, the relationship of the blind child to his sighted classmates in school is improved, as the ability to bowl gives him a common denominator with many youngsters, and sometimes even allows a morale boosting advantage. Thirdly, the physical coordination required by the sport is excellent training and exercise for the blind child, as he is unable to be as physically active in general as the sighted youngster.

Gene Avram On VFW Contest Judges Panel

WXYZ Radio newsmen, Gene Avram, has been chosen to represent the broadcast industry on the Michigan panel of judges who will score the entries of area students in the 16th annual Voice of Democracy National Contest Scripwriting Contest. SPONSORED BY the Veterans of the National Association of Broadcasters and State Associations of Broadcasters, the contest is open to all 10th, 11th, and 12th grade students of all public, private and parochial schools in the 50 states, District of Columbia and the Panama Canal Zone.

Each contestant writes and orally delivers a brief broadcast script on the theme "What Freedom Means to Me." A tape recording of the state winner's script will compete in the national contest for prize scholarships valued at $3,000, $3,500, $2,500 and $1,500.

On the judges panel with Avram will be representatives of religion, public education and local government.

The most important issue facing Michigan voters on April 1 as they cast their ballots for the proposed new constitution is: Will we go forward in 1963 or remain in status quo with 1962?
