Mrs. Fred Lenz of 21630 Hamlin Street is at home convalescing now and may enjoy visitors. She certainly can receive greeting cards and notes of cheer. Her many friends will be glad to learn.

Congressman Bill Broomfield Is Optimists' Charter Speaker

Congressman Wm. S. "Bill" Broomfield gave the principle address at the Charter Presentation of the Farmington Optimist Club held in the Boisdorf Inn ballroom on Saturday evening, April 27.

The newly organized Farmington Optimist Club was presented its Charter by District Governor Harold C. Eastman of Ann Arbor and received a fine welcome as a new service club from local government officials.

ATTENDING THE banquet representing the City of Farmington was Councilman Howard Thayer. Township Supervisor Curt Hall welcomed the new club into the area in behalf of the Township.

Among the 150 who attended the Charter Presentation were representatives of other Farmington service clubs, Tracy Conroy from the Exchange Club and Tom Adecock from the Kiwanis. Also in attendance were members of the sponsoring Southfield Optimist Club and representatives from surrounding area Optimist Clubs.

Congressman Bill Broomfield, who flew into Detroit from Washington to make the featured address for the new Farmington Optimist Club, is a life member of Optimist International.

HE PRAISED the work of the Optimists and cited the invaluable service the organization provides for the benefit of American youth.

Fred Samra, Farmington Optimist Club President, told the members of the new club are extremely interested in moving ahead as quickly as possible with the fine work of Optimist International within the local community.

"All of the members have a common interest and desire to work with and help boys," Samra said, "and we believe this Optimist Club will grow to become a real asset to the community."
