The bride wore a beautiful wedding gown designed by Ray's Bridal Salon of Detroit. The peau de soie gown was embroidered with Alencon lace at the bodice. A waist band of peau de soie ended in bows at the waist. The bride's green skirt fell into a chapel train.

The bridal bouquet was made up of white roses and ivy. The bride carried a white prayer book centered by the bouquet.

MRS. ELDON G. WILSON, the bride's sister, was the matron of honor. Miss Judy Latham of Farmington and Miss Peggy Drury of Detroit were the bridesmaids.

The bride's attendants wore matching gowns of blue chiffon, street length, with jackets. They wore narrow brimmed hats encircled with chiffon and accented by streamers.

Serving as the bridegroom's best man was Arnold Cobbi of Farmington. Ushers were Tom Helder, Al White, both of Farmington.

Pretty Christine Wilson, the young niece of the bride, made an attractive flower girl. She wore a dress matching those of the bride's attendants and looked like a red haired little princess walking down the aisle.

Mr. D. Fitzgerald sang "Oh, Perfect Love," and the "Lord's Prayer" in honor of the bride and bridegroom. John Hopkins was the organ accompanist.

Immediately following the church ceremony, the newlyweds were feted at a reception held in the American Legion hall in Farmington. A buffet dinner was served to the guests. An orchestra provided music for dancing.

THE NEWLYWEDS left for a two week honeymoon trip to California from the reception. They returned home May 27 and are now residents of Brookdale Avenue, Farmington.

Both graduates of Farmington Senior High School, the bridegroom is employed by a local electrical contractor, having formerly worked at Burroughs Corporation in Plymouth. The bride is a registered nurse and graduated at Veterans Hospital in Detroit. She is a graduate of the Kanawha Valley Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Virginia.
