June Blue Star Mothers Lunch Meeting Held

The June meeting of the Blue Star Mothers started with a pot luck lunch and the revealing of secret plans. During the business meeting reports were heard from the following: Mrs. Edna Vanenburg who had attended the State Blue Star Mothers Convention in Saginaw, Michigan.

PRESIDENT IRENE KROGER Chapter No. 49 advised a special church service for a veteran or uniform to show unity as an organization. The Mothers did not have the opportunity to have a farewell party for Sarah Hopkins before she moved from Farmington so a gift from the chapter was sent.

A unanimous wish was made that Mrs. Edna Vanenburg would continue to improve now that she is home from the hospital. The July Social will be at Grace Aul's home on Monday and Wednesday and Catherine Byrne has offered to bake the birthday cake for the July meeting on the third Thursday.

Farmington Officer Gets Key Army Post

Promotion of a Farmington man to a key position in the U.S. Army Mobility Command, at MOCOM headquarters at 16 Township Van Dyke in Sterling Heights, was announced today by Maj. Gen. Alden K. Sibley, MOCOM commanding general. Sibley said that Richard A. Wrigglesworth has been named Deputy Comptroller and Director of Programs for MOCOM. MOCOM is responsible for all center research, development, procurement, production and supply management of everything in the Army which flies, crawls, swims, creeps or rolls. The Command is responsible for 340,000 separate items and has an operating budget of $2,000,000 for 1953.

Wrigglesworth recently received another promotion - to a full colonel in the Army Reserve. He and his wife, Geraldine, and two sons, James, and Richard Jr., 34, live at 2676 Granddallwood Drive in Farmington.

A native of Cochelec, Mich., Wrigglesworth attended Lansing Central High School, Michigan State University and Wayne State University. He received a BA in Business Administration from Michigan State and an MIA in Public Administration from Wayne.

Wrigglesworth was employed by General Motors Corp. when he enlisted in the Army in World War two. He served overseas for more than three years in Africa, Italy, France and Germany with the Combat Engineers and received several awards for valor. He was decorated with the Legion of Merit.

After being discharged from active duty, he joined civilian government service with the Veterans Administration as chief financial officer at the National Public Health Service, serving in Louisville, Ky., and Detroit. He was transferred to the Ordnance Corps in 1951 as chief financial officer at the Ordnance Corps, serving in Louisville, Ky., and Detroit.

HE IS A MEMBER of the Federal Government Accountants Association, Association of the United States Army and the Army Ordnance Association. Wrigglesworth and his family have a summer cottage at Fresh Lake near Brighton and they enjoy group participation in fishing, water skiing and swimming.

AT A SIXTH resolution also was adopted urging local police officers to intensify their traffic safety efforts. Speakers at the convention emphasized the growing seriousness of the traffic problem and that the time has arrived when the resources of the state, counties, cities and villages must be strengthened to avoid a traffic blood bath.

USN Postal Clerk Serving on Carrier Robert J. Allor, postal clerk third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson F. Allor of 29765 Eldred, Farmington, was advanced to his present rate recently while serving aboard the anti-submarine aircraft carrier USS Lake Champlain, an Atlantic Fleet unit homeported at Quonset Point, R. I.

Advancement is based on meeting the Navy's military and professional requirements and determined by the needs of the service and stores attained on the Navywide competitive examinations given biennially. The advancement resulted from successful participation in the February tests.

The Lake Champlain is the only remaining straight-deck anti-submarine carrier in the Navy.

Timely Tips on GARDENING

By Betty Frankel

Roses have been the high light of the garden scene all month long. Beautifully formed individual bushes, there is a wide color range and many are fragrant. Each year new varieties are introduced and many gardeners find a rewarding hobby in "rosing".

FLORIBUNDAS, which originated from a cross between hybrid tea and dwarf polyanthas, are becoming increasingly popular. They are relatively disease resistant. Flowers are born in clusters, but are smaller and somewhat less fragrant than those of the Hybrid Tea. They bloom profusely throughout the summer and can be depended upon to supply continuous color in foundation plantings, planter boxes and borders.

Among the most popular are Spartan, an orange red; Vogue, cherry coral; Fashion, coral and white; and White Bouquet, yellow, and White Bouquet.

Rose rose types include Grandifloras, polyanthas, ramblers, shrub roses, and a variety of old fashioned roses such as the cabbage rose and the damask rose.

The health and vigor of the rose bushes and the amount of bloom is directly proportional to the amount of care they have received. Container roses are best for the summer as they are not subjected to the heat and long life for the plants.

ROSES MUST be planted with care in well prepared soil. A heavy clay soil with good drainage is just the best soil for roses. Soil that is just slightly on the acid side, if soil is excessively acid, this can be corrected by the application of lime in the Fall. Most soils in this area tend to be rather light and are not acid.

Roses need to be fed each year. In Spring after they have been pruned, feed them manure. This can be worked lightly into the soil. If this is not available, compost or other organic matter can be used. A chemical fertilizer can be used during the growing season until the end of August. This can be worked into the soil or used in liquid form on the roots or sprayed on the foliage.

Water thoroughly once a week. Flow the water onto the soil until it is soaked to a depth of one foot. Sprinkling enough to keep the soil moist is not sufficient.
