In Our Opinion . . .
Our Concerns Should Also Be Yours

More and more sewer lines are being put in throughout Farmington Township and it won't be long now before the diggers will be in the area in full force, cutting paths for the long awaited water lines that will bring Detroit water to a substantial area in the Township as well. They are only signs of a community that is destined to continue to grow until it is totally developed. Regardless of what may be said by those wishing to retain a rural-like and uncrowded atmosphere in Farmington, this growth is going to continue. For the past few years now, growth has been relatively slow in comparison to the building boom and rapid growth period that the community experienced from about 1954 through 1957. So serious problems were faced during this rapid growth period of more than five years past but we have now, for the most part, overcome them. The Township has made improvements in its zoning and adopted some ordinances with some teeth in them to prevent really undesirable types of development. Our community governments are now a little better organized to render the increased services that will have to be provided and our public school system is a better off than it was when the last boom came. With the continued extension of community-type water and sewer systems in to the Township, another boom building and growth period is definitely on its way. We are of the opinion that when this next boom growth period comes, it is going to be bigger and extend over a longer period of time than the last one did. We have a few deep concerns as we look ahead and visualize our 36 square miles of unimproved area almost totally developed with between 30,000 and 40,000 homes and a population of between 120,000 and 150,000. We feel these concerns of ours deserve some serious consideration by our entire citizenry and pass them along to you with hopes that you will give them some serious thought. High on our list of questions is whether or not the township form of govern-

Stands Against Federal 'Give Aways'

Officials and leaders in at least a few communities in our state are beginning to take some real positive stands against the ever-increasing Federal "give away" program our great white fathers in Washington are playing politics with. Just last week officials in Cross Lake Pointe Farms turned down almost $150,000 in Federal matching funds which had been approved for them to help in the construction of a city hall-office headquarters, a water reservoir and DPW garage. The school board in Parchment, a suburb of Kalamazoo, also took similar action in a much smaller way by rejecting $2,000 in federal aid under the national defense education act to improve their science, mathematics, foreign language and counseling programs. Not too long ago our colleague, Carl Black, over in Howell, Michigan, created quite a stir not only statewide but across the nation with an open letter to Senator McNamara on the front page of his paper. He made it clear that his community neither wanted nor needed the modern new post office that national officials were going to dig deeper into the deficit Federal budget bill to provide. Grosse Pointe Farms Mayor Pro-Tem William G. Butler made this statement in regard to the action of that community's council: "It was the feeling of the council that someone must stand up

Looking Back in the Files

5 Years Ago JULY 24, 1958
Howard Warner Dies
Funeral services were held this week for prominent Farmington businessman Howard M. Warner, a life-long resident and leader in the community. He was president of the Farmington State Bank and later vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit. Farmington has known him since he was 12. His father, Fred M. Warner, was the governor of Michigan from 1905 to 1911. The City lowered its flag to half mast in tribute to Warner's many civic contributions.
Paving Project
The City of Farmington began its annual street improvement paving program this week

MR. SKIDOO PAID A VISIT to the Scott's 5 and 10 in the Downtown Farmington Center and visited pretty Gail Kullgren. Scott's office cashier, to a whirl in his 1901 Oldsmobile replica. Helping Gail aboard is Scott's manager, Don Sapp (R). Mr. Skidoo may be seen daily in the Center in his white slicker and billed cap, seeking out shoppers to receive theater tickets and youngsters who enjoy suckers. The Olds was loaned to Mr. Skidoo by Dick Immonen, owner of Whitey's Mobil Service, Eight Mile and Farmington Road.

Commemorate Bell System's Telstar Orbit

TELSTAR II helped commemorate the first anniversary of international television service on July 23, 1963, when it relays a transatlantic discussion between former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Great Britain's former Prime Minister Anthony Eden and France's Jean Monnet. The special telecast marked the launching one year ago by the United States of Telstar I, the world's first active communications satellite. The CBS network televised the international discussion, at 4 p.m., and repeated it on tape at 7:30 p.m. TELSTAR II WAS launched May 7 by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), with the Bell Telephone System, paying for all launching and tracking costs as well as for Telstar I.

Schulte Joins N. Farmington Realty Firm

Robert "Dutch" Schulte, former candidate for the Farmington City Council, is now affiliated with North Farmington Realty in the Kendallwood Professional Center. Realtor Hal Howe announced this week. The Schulte name has been well known in the Farmington area for the past 40 years. His father, Judge Schulte, will retire this week after serving for the past 41 years as Municipal Judge for Farmington. For the past several years "Dutch" has been active in the local real estate industry, having participated in many home sales in Farmington and Farmington Township. He also participated in the leasing of stores in the Farmington Center.

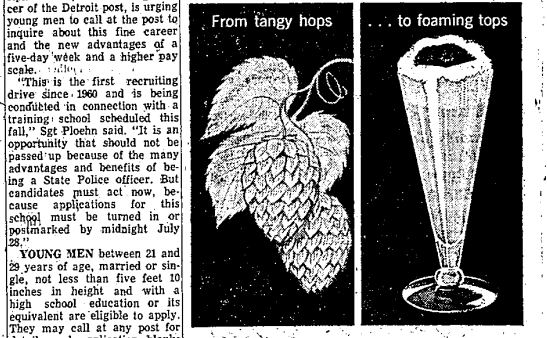

Vacation Series At Art Institute

The third program of the Children's Vacation Series, conducted by members of the Education Department, will happen Thursday, August 1. Spirits, ghosts, both good and evil (unless powers will be in attendance when "Masks of Many Lands" demonstrates the functions of masks in primitive societies. The masks, from the collection of the Detroit Institute of Arts, will be worn by dancers who will depict their day to day use against spirits representing the forces of evil. The dancers will also elaborate upon themes presented by the motion picture "The Lion's Necklaces". Admission to the program, to be held in the Auditorium at 2:00 p.m., is free to both children and parents.

START THE "PIG RUN"!

This "pig run" is not a sporting event and there's no bacon on the "pig"! In the typical, colorful jargon of the pipeliner, a steel slug surrounded by stiff wire bristles is called a "pig" and the act of sending this pig through a section of pipeline is called a "pig run". This pig scoots rapidly through the smooth interior of the huge pipeline, clearing any rust and dirt and scale ahead of it—making sure that clean Natural Gas remains clean all the way to the cities and villages of Ontario, Michigan. This is only one of the many precautions taken to assure dependable, efficient, clean gas service for home and industry. Compare And You'll Agree!
