Teacher Supply Outlook Bright

Forget those gloomy forecasts of acre-size classes or all-TV schools; it won't happen. The teacher supply outlook is the brightest in years. For one thing, schools are tapping new sources. They are recruiting "second - timers" - women who left classrooms to rear families and are getting back in harness. Housewives with liberal-arts degrees are qualifying to teach, through non-profit foundation projects. And high schools are attracting early-retiring military veterans as science and math teachers.

Colleges, of course, are still the big source. And Kenneth Coulter of the Greenwich (Conn.) schools, thinks they'll solve the shortage by 1970.

He explains his calculations in Overview Magazine. The 1950-60 school enrollment increased 39 per cent, college graduates just 1 per cent.

Johnson-Haaksma Wed In 1st Methodist Church

Miss Helen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Johnson of 32036 Wayburn Drive in Farmington, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, August 17, with Mr. Curtis Dean Haaksma, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Haaksma of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The Rev. Richard T. Markham, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Farmington, officiated at the 4 p.m. wedding ceremony.

THE BRIDE'S gown of white organza had a portrait neckline, a princess line bodice and a flared skirt featuring a chapel train. The portrait neckline was outlined in Alencon lace. The skirt and bustle were embellished with motifs of Alencon lace. Her headpiece was a waterfall veil of imported silk tulle held in place by a double tulle crown of chanelly lace and pearls.

Miss Phila Kirkbride of Grand Rapids was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth Kleinman of Grand Rapids, and Miss Barbara Haaksma (sister of the bridegroom). They wore identical gowns of gold peau de soie sheath with bouffant overskirt.

ROBERT BEINKS was the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were James Juries of Grand Rapids and Phillip A. Johnson, Jr. of Farmington.

A reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Farmington for 200 guests following the wedding ceremony at the First Methodist Church. The newlyweds are currently honeymooning in the New England states. They plan to make their home in Holland, Michigan.

The Women of Kendallwood Farms

By JOAN HARRIS

Flash, our most exciting news of the hour... The Women of Kendallwood Farms are pleased to extend a membership invitation to women living in Westbrooke. Last year, of these women displayed an interest in our club, but bylaws made it impossible for them to become members. Now, we hope they will come out in full force and discover that the program, projects and purposes of our club will provide enjoyment and satisfaction for them.

THE PAST FEW weeks Rita Wayne, Membership Chairman, and Marge Fleischacker, co-chairman, have been busy beavers planning many neighborhood coffee's. By now, these are under full steam. Since our membership is now open to Westbrooke women, the coffee's have been extended to this area, where the women are naturally unfamiliar with the many facets of our organization.

These informal get togethers have attracted many new faces and we certainly hope they will continue their interest and become members of our club. We would like to express our thanks to the women who are opening their homes and inviting their friends and neighbors to a membership coffee.

The hostesses are as follows: IN Kendallwood, Lou Gorman, Mary Trebble, Shirley Otis, Mickey Williams, Momi Erickson, Norma Pender, Janice Baker, Bea Schumacker, Marge Fleischacker and Joyce Gregory in Westbrooke, Mary McManery, Doty Jih, Joy McCort, Betty Noreen, and Jayne Beisegel. We hope there will be more groups scheduled in the near future.

OUR PROGRAM for the year is quickly taking shape. Elaine Dempster, Vice President and Program Chairman, has okayed a few of her secrets for publication. Imagine, adult education is being brought to you. Spend your club night with good friends and pursue an interesting hobby at the same time.

To date, Elaine has arranged

Delta Gamma Alumni Women Plan Meeting

Delta Gamma Alumnae of the Farmington Association will resume their regular meetings for the 1963-64 term on Monday, September 9, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Richard Boyesen, 1110 Harrison, Livonia.

Presiding at the meetings this year will be the newly elected president, Mrs. Thomas Holland of Plymouth.

New program and directory books will be distributed among the members. These have been made during the summer by Mrs. William Cravens of Farmington, the new program chairman.

THE NEW PROGRAM of activities for the year will be discussed. It includes a trip to the Penitentiary Nursery for Visually Handicapped Children, the annual talent auction and other exciting and interesting events.

The project this year will again be making Tough and Feat Nursery Rhyme books for the kindergartens at Adams School in Livonia. These will be worked on during the first meeting.

All Delta Gamma Alumnae from Farmington, Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, and Novi are cordially invited to attend this first meeting.

Secretaries Join Workshop

Miss Joyce Ferris of 25233 Spoorwood, Mrs. Bertha Matalla of 33105 Orchard St., Mrs. Elma V. Stacker of 33723 Grand River, Mrs. Beatrice Wheeler of 33355 Ferris Ave., all of Farmington, were among the more than 150 secretarial specialists staffing the offices of Michigan's school systems who attended a special workshop conference at Ferris State College here August 4.

The conference, staged cooperatively by the college and the Michigan Association of Educational Secretaries, was aimed at equipping the participants to the best advantage in the on-going development of public education.

SPEAKERS for the three-day workshop included Dr. Donald D. Fink, Dean, Grand Rapids Junior College; Mr. Nicholas Musselman, Assistant Professor, Ferris State College; Dr. Richard C. Gerfin, Professor of Business Writing, Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois; Dr. Ernest A. Stanton, Dean and Professor of Management, College of Business Administration, Pennsylvania State University; Father John Najdowski, Rector of St. Paul's Chapel, Big Rapids; Mrs. Martha Luck, Assistant Dean, Northwestern University; and Dr. Dacho Dachof, Director of Music, Ferris.

Staff members of the Michigan Education Association, the Department of Public Instruction, and the State Retirement Board conducted concurrent technical sessions at the conference.

Miss Ferris is secretary in the Ten Mile Elementary Library Office; Mrs. Matalla is secretary for Longene Elementary School; Mrs. Stacker is the secretary to the assistant superintendent of Farmington Public Schools; and Mrs. Wheeler is an elementary school secretary for Southfield No. 10 School.

'Best' Schools Are Keeping Their Pupils

How big and brand-new the local high school is, and how much it costs to build it is not surprising new study finds.

More important factors, "Project Talent" figures show, are the number of books in the school library, the expenditures per pupil, and teacher experience, and teacher salaries.

The government - supported survey checked 1,353 high schools to choose the "good" ones, as indicated by student's achievement, number staying in school, and number going on to college.

A New Yorker named Walter Hunt invented the safety pin just a few hours one day in 1846, reports World Book encyclopedia, when he twisted a piece of wire into the familiar shape still used today. The people of Italy, however, are believed to have used similar devices as long ago as 2,000 B.C.

Greenfield Village with its Edison Institute in Dearborn is one of America's leading tourist attractions with more than a million visitors annually. It contains a collection of Americans that is considered the finest in the world.

LADIES STEP FORWARD

"MEMOS" FROM YOUR STYLIST
BY JEAN

It was bound to come, and it now appears that the machine age has wormed its way into the singularly feminine ways of beauty.

A large cosmetics manufacturer announced that an electronic computer has been called into play to wink its panel lights, whirl tapes and flip out answers to many beauty problems.

The manufacturer has this to say: "The pioneering spirit provides women with a scientific, individual, skin-care and make-up analysis and recommendations based on answers to a personalized questionnaire."

When you come right down to cases, ladies, you can't rely on a computer to nicely select matters relating to your hair: this is a job for JEAN'S BEL-AIRE BEAUTY SHOP. Our operators and stylists have the knack of fitting the perfect style to you, specifically. Make your appointment today at JEAN'S BEL-AIRE BEAUTY SHOP, 24109 Orchard Lake Rd. Phone GR. 4-7810.
