

Police Chief Gives Holiday Safety Advice

In a pre-Thanksgiving Day message to all who will drive to distant or nearby homes of relatives to observe America's traditional feast day, Farmington Township Chief of Police Irving Yakes urged that the celebration be seasoned with safety.

"This time-honored tradition is the source of many of our most cherished memories," he said, "but these would be changed to life-long regret if we, through negligence, should allow future Thanksgiving Days to be marred by memories of the death of a loved one in an auto accident."

THE IMPORTANT thing is to be able to close each Thanksgiving with a prayer of thanksgiving for a safe journey, the chief said; and this usually can be assured by a few simple precautions, he pointed out.

"Schedule your trip so that you can take time for safety," he advised. "Remember that over-indulgence — particularly by the one who is responsible for the driving — has no place in a meaningful observance of the occasion. And a holiday so closely associated with patriotic pride is no time for unpatriotic disregard of our traffic laws."

"If the weather turns vicious, as it can at this time of year, it may even become necessary for the head of the household to decide to cancel the trip — in spite of the groans of disappointment (temporary) he will have to endure, Chief Yakes advised. One Thanksgiving Day trip missed could preserve the joys of many Thanksgiving Days to come, he observed.
