

More Volunteers Are Needed For Local Torch Drive in Oct.

More volunteers are needed to call upon neighbors to solicit funds for the 1965 budgets of health and community services during the 1964 Torch Drive starting Oct. 20, Mrs. Arthur Mazur, 2289 W. Farmington, region chairman, said today.

"The Torch Drive is the greatest community effort in the world," she said. "We want everyone to have an opportunity to participate, as a contributor or as a volunteer worker, or both."

"We women have a priceless opportunity to make a 'person-to-person' contact within every home on behalf of the Torch Drive. During this visit, we must be sure to tell everyone about the principles, objectives, and the services provided through its 204 agencies."

"We MUST DEDICATE ourselves to carrying this message into every home, whether or not we receive a contribution, as a reward for our efforts. Many 'breadwinners' give generously at work, but there are thousands who do not have this privilege."

"Each volunteer is assigned a limited number of homes to visit. In addition to obtaining contributions from the homeowners' own funds, and from persons who might not otherwise have an opportunity to contribute, the purposes of the Torch Drive and distribute educational material."

"The United Foundation, which conducts the annual Torch Drive, is a federation of contributors. Its board of directors, executive committee, and goal and allocations committee are made up of representatives of givers, rather than receivers, of contributions."

"FOR THIS REASON, Torch Drive expenditures are made toward meeting the actual needs of the community. Changes are constantly being made to keep abreast of these needs."

"Senior citizens of the area are reminded that tomorrow, September 11, is the date to hear the Salvation Army's Eventide Kitchen Band at a meeting of the Senior Citizens Social Club of Farmington. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, Grand River and Warner Streets."

"All senior citizens of the area are invited to the program after which refreshments will be served."

Wood-Creek Farms Village

Dick and Grace Taylor left July 25 and flew to New York City where they had a tour of the World's Fair before joining a group of 28 members of the Photographic Society of America for a trip to Russia. The trip started in Moscow via KLM but had only a couple of hours there before flying on to Moscow. The trip started in this, the largest city in Russia. They had a Russian woman guide for the three weeks of their trip. She said Moscow was "city of more than 5 million people, perhaps as many as 8 million but it was impossible to keep up with the population. She was sure it was the fifth largest city in the world. Moscow has a population of more than 10 million."

Kiev, with about 1 1/2 million, is in the Ukraine, the bread basket of Russia, and here they saw the large farms. Their next stop was at Tbilisi, then Sochi on the Black Sea, each of these with a population of about 300,000. There are the big cities of the world. Moscow is 4,000 miles over Russia which gave them a view of these large cities, not small hamlets set amid trees. A small town at which all the people in that village would work and they would live in a big apartment house."

THEY SAW very few single men, but many women. They saw another noticeable thing in that country is of two completely separate generations - the old people of pre-revolution days with very little or no education and the young people of today with universal education, most of these school children speak English, and all very thoroughly indoctrinated in communism. Also they saw so many, many women workers in the streets, they carry brief cases, etc.

For entertainment they were invited to Friendship Clubs where they were shown films - a lot of which they saw rightly very poor, plus propaganda films showing men leaning against a wall - Dick recognized the wall of Pennsylvania State and New York City, where the capitalists lean most of the time, of negroes carrying signs "Down with Jim Crow Law" and "Down with the U.S. flag" headed with women wearing mink coats, etc.

THEY ATTENDED three ballets which were very fine. There were no foreign papers or magazines except for the English Worker. They flew home, reaching here August 17th after a very informative trip, one they would not have missed, but they would have not repeat accommodations in Russia are not what we are accustomed to. Norm Kreider's mother flew out to Florida on Florida on August 22nd to spend about a month here.

Last month Roy and Ethel Nelson flew to Nassau for a five day insurance conference. They had a short vacation until the 10th when they went up to Douglas Lake, which is about ten miles from the Straits, with their friends the Earl Peters of Adrian.

Japet Lam worked this summer at Ford Hospital in the Blue Cross division. She got through last Friday and is taking a short vacation until the 10th when she enters her senior year at North Farmington High School.

Hot Car Stalls On Twp. Youths
Farmington, Justice of the Peace Allen C. Ingle placed Harold M. Van Camp, 17, of 2130 Mayfield in Farmington on probation, ordered him to pay $15 court costs, $72 in probationary oversight costs, and make full restitution after the youth pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of simple larceny on September 15.

Van Camp and four juvenile companions had attempted to steal a car from the driveway of Russell Aubuebon of 33824 Rhinowood, in Farmington Township on August 24. The youths succeeded in getting the car only about one-half mile from Aubuebon's driveway, Farmington Road and Colfax Street, before the theft was reported to Township Police.

FARMINGTON GIRL SCOUTS, concluded activities recently at Camp Arapaho, a two-week day camp held in the woods near Haggerty and 12 Mile roads in Farmington Township. Pictured above are girl scouts grouped around the camp's ice cream making center, which provided dessert for the girls after some hard work at using an old fashioned method. In whipping up a batch of the homemade ice cream, the girls used a coffee can held by one of the girls above, containing the ingredients and a little ice. They placed the mixture in a straw-covered hole surrounded by salt to lower the temperature and produce the end product.

120 Farmington Girl Scouts Attend 2-Week Camp Arapaho

Have you recently rushed to the window to find Indians with their bows and arrows whipping along your street? Relax, this is just your friendly girl scout neighbor as she returns from Camp Arapaho. The camp has been a busy two weeks, with much to learn, much fun and much to remember. An approximate 120 girls, Scouters and the various other personnel it requires to set up camp descended into Warren's Woods at Haggerty and 12 Mile Road, on Tuesday, August 4.

THE FIRST DAY involved setting up canvas files, clearing paths, making fire rings, hanging lines for equipment, fishing tables, collecting fire wood and fixing hand washing facilities. By Wednesday, things had become fairly stable, units cooked their meals and began badge work. On Thursday, the Cadet Unit planned and carried out an All-Camp game. Friday continued camp routine.

THE SECOND Tuesday broke with the flash of lightning, claps of thunder and torrents of rain. Bravely the girls, their Scouters and instructors fought to continue camp life but by noon all were drenched and finally resigned themselves to cancelling camp. Chuckwagon had been canceled - it was with the Jim Crow Law of the U.S. flag.

Offer Reward Of $1,000 Cash In Lake Murder

The Michigan Marine Dealers Association posted a $1000 cash reward today in the search for the murderers of a Keego Harbor youth.

The reward boosted to $4000 the total contributed for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who willfully struck and killed Allan L. Ackery, 20, Aug. 3 on Cass Lake, 20 miles north of Detroit.

In offering the reward, Norman Cook, Jr., president of MMDA, said: "I want to stress that boasting is not to blame for this death. It just happened that a boat was the murder weapon. Had it been on a highway, the warning might have been a car."

The Oakland County sheriff's department is looking for a brown-and-white motorboat, but has few clues. Anyone with information about the murder is asked to call Don Kratt in Pontiac at 335-8194.

If all misfortunes were laid in a common heap, whence every one must take an equal portion, most people would want to take their own and depart. —Socrates
