Henry Ford Community College and holds a MS and MEd from Eastern Michigan University.

With the school system since 1959, Jablonski has served on at least one workshop committee every year. In addition to his roles as acting principal and fifth and sixth grade teacher, he has been audio-visual representative, teacher-librarian, supervising teacher and treasurer of the Farmington Education Association.

During the Korean conflict, Jablonski was leading radioman aboard his ship for two and a half years. His duties included instructing the ship's officers and company on the use of equipment and procedure.

It was with the help of the GI bill, Jablonski financed his own education. He supplemented the government funds with odd jobs ranging from a parts chaser at General Motors Corporation to a bullgang operator, a printer and a mail carrier.

Jablonski makes his home in Redford Township with his wife and five children. He calls himself a "bowler-golfer-tinkerer who likes to read and write." He also is active in the Farmington Players.

Lanigan, the present principal at Longacre, requested the opportunity to serve as principal in the new Larkshire school. He felt it would offer great professional challenges and new experiences. The administration called it desirable to have an experienced principal in a new building.

The Special Education interim appointment granted Smith is unusual in the school district. It recognizes Smith's abilities and administrative potential and at the same time is an expression of confidence and gratitude to Hugh Watson who plans to return to Farmington's Special Education program.

Smith holds a BS degree from Michigan State University and an MA in speech correction and administration which he received from University of Michigan in 1957.

He served as an officer in the U.S. Army in Korea and in 1957 became a speech correctionist for the Walled Lake Public Schools. In Farmington since 1960, Smith conducted the experimental speech improvement program for pre-school children in the summer of 1962 and has worked with the program since that time.

Smith is a member of the Farmington Education Association, Michigan Education Association and National Education Association. He is active in the Michigan Speech and Hearing Association as well as being past-president of the Oakland County Speech and Hearing Association. He also has been a trustee of the Farmington Parent League for the Handicapped.

Bridge Games To Continue

The Farmington Duplicate Bridge clubs will continue through-out the summer months. The bridge games, played weekly are open to all bridge players, new duplicate players and those who would like to try this variation of contract bridge are most welcomed.

You will be given instructions on the scoring and on the use of the duplicate boards. Let the director know on your arrival if you need these instructions. The Farmington clubs are a member of the American Contract Bridge League (ACBL) and of Southern Michigan Bridge Association (SMBA).

You need no reservations and you do not need to be a member to play in these games.

The games are played at the Farmington YMCA, on Grand River, just East of Drake Road.

MMP games are the last Wednesday of each month. Thursdays at 10 a.m. MMP games are the third Thursday of each month. For the Early Bird game on Thursday morning, you are asked to bring a sandwich, coffee and dessert is furnished.

As, during the winter there will be care for the children, however, the age range will extend from 2-12. There will be a fee for the child's care, and you are asked to pack a sack lunch for each child.

Rose Anderson is director of these games, contact her for any additional information you might like on either game. Contact her at 476-1767.

ISLAND HOPPING is a popular pastime these days. I have been mad to hear about it ever since the first batch of travelers arrived home with their bright shirts and shirts, straw bags and shark tooth jewelry. Eleanor and Reginald Sandey of Quail Hollow have just arrived home from a three week trip during which they visited the islands of Hawaii, Cocoa Head and Diamond Head, Maui, Kaui, etc. They really had a ball, and stored up a variety of experiences. Outstanding places of interest were a trip through the Dole pineapple factory where there are actually faucets in the lobby which spout pineapple juice and a river boat trip to the Fern Grotto in the State Park at Kaui where a group of Hawaiian entertainers sang their songs at the mouth of the cave where it echoed and reached through the walls.

THE FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES were highly unusual. There were plantations of pineapple and sugar cane. Bananas and cocoanuts grow in clusters from trees. Besides the never ending carpet of wild flowers, there were also trips to orchid farms where there were hundreds of different varieties.

ON THE SOCIAL SIDE there were the typical luas and the Malahine (newcomers) night. The native foods were intriguing but the Sandeys who are devotees of the charcoal steak and tossed salad school wouldn't want them for a steady diet. Roast pig, fried bananas, pineapple an dcocoanut fondue, and poi were on the banquet tables. One delicacy which tasted like Southern fried chicken turned out to be dolphin (shades of flipper).

ASKED TO BE A VOLUNTEER from the audience in one of the clubs, Sandey found himself an unexpected partner in the traditional Hawaiian bamboo dance during which the dancers must leap nimbly through the bamboo poles which are laid out somewhat like the Japanese sword dance.

MEMORIAL TO THE SUNKEN "ARIZONA" has been erected on Pearl Harbor and the Sandeys had a nostalgic moment when they viewed the name of a former school chum on a plaque in the National Cemetery.

PIONEER GOLDEN AGE CITIZENS were honored by the Knights of Columbus, St. Francis Council, Thursday, at a luncheon at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Middlebelt. The event was to commemorate Senior Citizens Months which President Johnson had proclaimed the month of May. The invitation was extended by Earl Marks' and the wives of the members cooked and served the luncheon. (Luncheon was provided by the Daughters of Isabella).

FLOWERS CENTERED THE LUNCHEON TABLE and after the luncheon there was group singing and dancing. Responsible for providing the delightful affair were Mrs. Leonard Monnette, Mrs. Larry Zurcher and Mrs. Joseph Koehler (chairman). Nearly thirty-five members attended.

AMY CHARRON who has planned so many pleasant events for Girl Scout Troop 127, will hold their troop's final meeting at the home of Shirley Don at 30015 Ravenscroft in Briar Hill. Flag Day will be celebrated, also a scavenger hunt has been planned. There will also be—but wait that's Amy's surprise and the scouts will have to wait t'ill Thursday, July 17, to find out what it is.

VALPARAISO UNIVERSITY GUILD will hold a Garden Party at Mrs. F. Zehnder's, 6360 Hills Drive, Birmingham, on June 29, Tuesday. Husband and friends invited. It will be a noon-potluck luncheon, so bring your favorite dish. Directions to drivers are: West on Maple Road to ½ mile west of Lahser Road, opposite entrance to Oakland Hills Country Club. Turn right on Hills Drive. If driving out Telegraph Rd., turn right on Maple Road and left on Hills Drive. Further questions call Mrs. George Schudlich, chairman, VE 6-7595.

"FASHIONS SHOWN FROM THE PAST" was the title of the fashion show the Farmington Players presented for the Womens Group of the First Methodist Church of Farmington at their final meeting, June 8. It was a pot-luck luncheon. Newly elected officers are Mrs. Tom McCutcheon (re-elected for another year). Vice president, Mrs. William Harrison; recording secretary, Mrs. John Smith, and treasurer, Mrs. Warren McKenzie.

PASTOR RALPH STRIBE, of Church of Our Savior attended the Presbyterian Synod at Alma, Michigan. It is an annual affair and lasted June 8, 9, and 10.

trustees scholarship as well as a National Defense Loan. Joyce received a four year trustees scholarship in recognition of her superior academic record.

As winner of the Farmington Area Junior Miss Pageant, sponsored by the Farmington Jaycees, Janis Pierce was a recipient of a cash award which she will use at Michigan State.

One of the highest honors accorded enterin gfreshmen at Oberlin College goes to Andy Lawing—the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation Scholarship, in recognition of his outstanding achievement as as student and a citizen during his secondary school years. Lawing has also been awarded the Kathy Sevin award, the highest tribute that can be paid to a senior at North Farmington.

Jeff Lazar, Corrine Mallon and Peggy Hawkins were awarded three Regents Alumni Scholarships form the University of Michigan. Peggy, however, is going to go to Georgetown University.

Mike McIntosh has been awarded a scholarship to the Cranbrook Summer Theatre. This is a new summer program.

Julianne Victoria Knabl and Janice Lee Foster have been awarded scholarships to Western Michigan University. Adrian College has announced a scholarship award to Susan Nauman. Albion College has awarde ad National Defense Student Loan to Paula Boys.

The Marathon Oil Co. has awarded an Academic Achievement Award to R. Brooks Stover. Only children of Marathon employees are eligible for this award.

Depaw University has awarded an Honary McMahon Scholarship to Janet Lam in recognition of her superior academic achievement, character, leadership and academic potential.

The second annual Farmington Education Association Scholarship was awarded to Sharon Saja. The Association's scholarship fund is maintained by the teachers and administration of the Farmington Public Schools. This year, sizable contributions were maed by the senior classes of both North Farmington and Farmington High Schools. The Farmington High School Future Teachers Club, and several individual contributions in memory of Louise Bailey, Louise Grimm, and Gail Gallaway, all of whom were teachers in the Farmington Public Schools.

In addition to the F.E.A. Scholarship, Sharon has been notified that Mercy College has awarded her the Anthony Marlowe and Mercy College of Detroit Scholarship.

The Parent Teachers Association has awarded scholarships to Patricia Prucha and William Scheffler.

This year the student council of North Farmington is presenting two scholarships to Cathy Newton and Roberta Sivazlian. The recipients were chosen by a committee of faculty, administrator and student members. And Miss Sivzalian was awarded a federal loand from Oakland University.

become stagnant and unable to cope with future demands for service in cost without an increase in taxes."

Dinan met with residents of Woodcroft Sub. at the Longacre School last week. He stressed the advantages to them of the savings they would get as residents of the City, in cheaper utilities. The estimated cost of sewers and water from the City was about $3,000. As part of the City, Dinan told them, they would be charged only about $1,000.

The extra City tax, he said, would be compensated for by extra services (better roads, and better police protection, and free garbage, and trash pickup.

One Woodcroft resident who was not swayed by Dinan's presenting was Al Gain, chief Building Inspector for the Township. "I moved out of the Township. "I moved out of the City to get away from the City taxes and now if they go into the City we will lose our country status.

Discussing the matter at the Township Board meeting on Monday, Supervisor Curt Hall expressed confidence that when the people in the affected area were given all the facts, they will stay with the Township."
