An AFS Student Writes Home

It's Wonderful To Have Two Families!

(Editor's Note: Nancy Dean, a teenager from Coventry Gardens in Livonia, has been spending the past year, with the Cavalier family in Brussels, Belgium, under the American Field Service program. She will return to Livonia about July 20th. Following is an excerpt from one of her recent letters.)

Chere famille,
I am sitting in my room with two big boxes full of things to be sent home and strewn all over are souvenirs and mementoes that don't fit in the boxes. You would never believe all of the stuff that I have collected. Just a few—the "Happy New Year" in Lidge, from our New Year's party, all of my school notebooks, hankies, tickets and programs from millions of places, a candy pig from a restaurant in Paris and a piece of pavement that some boys brought me as a "unique" souvenir of Belgium. I think that I will have to start throwing it away because I can hardly lift it. There is only one hitch to all of my lovely collection—it is going to cost small fortune to send home. Papa is taking the two boxes to the station today.

I went yesterday with the school to see a showing of that government movie on the life of Kennedy, "Years of Lightning, Day of Drums." His mother had gotten the tickets and the picture was very good, very well put together.

Last Saturday afternoon Papa, Maman, Christian, Mimi and I went to a restored village (something like Williamsburg) and spent the whole afternoon inspecting hundreds of years' old farms, houses, churches and windmills. It was lovely and fascinating. I could have stayed for a much longer time.

Sunday we left after 9:30 Mass and reached the extreme southern part of the coast at about 10 a.m. We spent the day following the coast all the way to the resort town of Knokke. At the town of Oostende we stopped for lunch and to watch the passenger and ferry ships leave for and arrive from England. We also saw some of the major battle fields of the 1st World War and visited some trenches. What unbelievably horrible, cramped places they were!

Last Tuesday I went to Louvain University. The boy next door went with me and showed me where the two classes were that I was to observe. I got to the 1st class (Chemistry) just in time and sat through a very interesting 1 1/2 hour lecture. I had about a five minute walk to the next class, which was French Literature. This lecture was by a really neat, roly-poly professor who absolutely loved the 16th and 17th Century literature that he was teaching. I just sat there taking notes like everyone else. Both of these classes had about 200 students who sat in an auditorium-with-decks type room and each professor had a microphone. The language was no problem.

I am going to school this afternoon to return my books, etc., and it will probably be the last time that I go.

The family is going on a four day weekend trip to the Netherlands and Luxembourg next Thursday and then a week later I start my A.F.S. tour. The big day of leaving is getting here so quickly—it's going to be difficult.

I hope everyone here knows how much I appreciate what they have done and how happy they have made my year. I think of Mimi and Christian as my brother and sister and Papa and Maman as a second set of parents—I like having two families!

LOVE,
NANCY

Sharon Nastoff Weds Jerry Charles Ramey

Sharon Lee Nastoff became the bride of Jerry Charles Ramey on June 15 at a candlelight ceremony at the Marina Mary Chapel at Greenfield Village.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nastoff of Livonia, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ramey of Dearborn Heights.

For her marriage, the bride wore a white peau de sole gown with a slim bell skirt sweeping back to a chapel length train. The headpiece was of hand made Belgian lace.

Ruth Ann Arps served as the maid of honor, while the bridesmaids were Mary Katherine Kelly; Karen Lee Ramey; Christyann Zimmer; and Janet Marie Nastoff, a junior bridesmaid.

They wore floor length empire princess gowns of soft blue textured silk with free flowing back wattle panels. Blue silk roses attached to blue scalloped net were the headpieces.

Charles Ramey was the best man, while William Hill, Paul Ford and Tony Gollig seated the guests.

Following a honeymoon in the Caribbean, the newlyweds took up residence in Livonia.

In keeping with the theme of candlelight and roses of the bride's gown, the ceremony was held in the parking lot to the chapel via horse drawn carriages.

Go Ann Ponsock Exchanges Vows With James Mongold

Wedding vows were exchanged between Joan Ponsock and James Mongold on June 18 in a candlelight service in Temple Baptist Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paul Ponsock of Livonia and the parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. William C. Mongold of Warren.

Five tiers of white Chantilly lace trimmed in white sequins and pearls formed the skirt of the bride's gown. Her crown holding her well in place was of white satin roses with pearl tree drops. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations.

The attendants were similarly gowned in white lace top long dresses with pink organza skirts and pink satin cummerbunds. They each wore long white lace gloves, a gift of the bride. Judy Taylor was maid of honor with Lind Thwidd, Annette Carnes and Margie Mongold serving as bridesmaids.

Leon Dial was best man with Jim Carnes, Larry Brandon and Jerry David seating the guests. Two hundred guests honored the young newlyweds in the dining room of the church following the ceremony.

Following a motor trip through the North country the new Mr. and Mrs. Mongold will be at home in Royal Oak.
