NOW... INSTANT MOVIES

Remember a couple of years ago when INSTAMATIC cameras were introduced? People who never took snapshots started taking them. People who used to shoot only a couple of rolls of film a year started exposing six, eight, even ten rolls or more a year. All this happened because the KODAK INSTAMATIC cameras took the bother out of picture-taking while leaving in the fun. And now the same thing has happened to home movies!

The same instant-loading idea has been brought to home movies. Just open the camera and pop in a cartridge. No threading. No looking for a dark corner to load in. And no flipping the film midway in your shooting, either.

But the most exciting part of the story is the quality of the pictures. Because the picture area is about 50% larger on the film than in regular 8mm, your movies are brighter, sharper and richer in color than ever before.

There's so much to be said for this new kind of home movies, it's much rather than tell you. The camera, for example, there's three to choose from, ranging from the most simple to a model with many automatic features. And the same with projectors: a whole family of projectors so that there's sure to be one with the features you want and the price you can best afford. Drop in to see them soon.

Lemelin-McNutt Exchange Vows

Lois Valley Methodist Church was the setting for the evening marriage of Sandra Marie Lemelin and Adam McNutt III, on Sept. 18. Rev. Jon Clapp officiated at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lemelin, Jr. of Elmhurst, Redford Township, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam McNutt, Jr. of Seminole Ave. in Redford Township.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the VFW Hall in Plymouth.

Sister of the bride, Judy Lemelin, was maid of honor with Pat Mundy, Mrs. Pam Breese, Sue Vigliotti, cousin of the bride, as bridesmaids.

Carl Bentley was best man with Thomas Barsch, Roger Fox, David Fox, Don Barnett, Bud Lemelin, brother of the bride, serving as ushers.

The bride chose a full length organza gown with lace bodice and attached train for her wedding. Her bridesmaids were gowned in full-length silk linen of light blue and royal blue with chapel trains. The flower girl, Kelly Morgan, was gowned in white. The bridegroom was gowned as the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Niagara Falls the newlyweds will be at home on West McNichols.
