FRAN AND MEL ABELA have just returned from a trip abroad. Mel Abel is an executive with the Kelyanov Co. He went on a trip sponsored by the dealers to Vienna and Athens. Fran accompanied him. Two other Kendall woodwinds were also on the trip, Marv and Marj Wilson of Kirkside.

They adored Vienna with its old world charm and beauty. One of the more interesting trips was the Vienna, the home of the Habsburgs; a palace of 1200 rooms. The Spanish riding school where the superb show horses are trained was another spot, to say nothing of the attractions of the light opera and the Viennese pastry.

Athens proved a stimulating combination of both the old and the new in buildings. They took a boat trip to the Aegean Isles (Lydia, Miletus and Mt. and the Valley of the Kings) and were visiting the Acropolis.

ORANGE CLOVE POMANDERS will be made by the "Garden Ladies" as the children of the Hillside Little Theatre Group. The members of this session will show the children how to punch holes into an orange, insert a clove into each hole; after the orange is completely covered with cloves, the orange will be caught up and tied with a pretty ribbon. Then a bow will be added. The oranges will eventually harden and they are kept indefinitely. They are especially nice during the kitchen for a delightful scent.

Wife of Captain of the Winning Team.

Members of her team who received flags were Peter Davis, Dolores Scott, Mrs. Howard Livermore, Christian Powell, Jack Slater, Jr., W. A. Wagner.

Each flag was accompanied by a letter from the Hon. William S. Broomfield and by the Architect of the Capitol, certifying that the flags had been officially flown for this purpose, and the date and the time they were flown. These should prove bona fide collectors' items.

WELCOME TO TON Mitchell and Ruth Housey. The former of whom, a Farmington senior, four years, will be moving to 22470 Heather Crest Crescent. The Houseys formerly lived in Burton Hollow, Livonia. Before moving their neighbors bid them with a standing goodbye.

"Christmas Greens" is the title of the wonderful Christmas show at Belle Isle. There are many new and wonderful ideas on decorating your home for Christmas. Ribbons have always been a favorite among standing garden club members.

Bringing their trophies home are Marvel Steiger for "Crest Glow of Candlelight," Myra Kruger, Gloria Giles for their "Hanging Nobles." Mary and Pauline Pauline Marshall for their "Ornaments."

Myra Kruger again won ribbons for her "Minatures" and her "Christmas Packages."

Some Toys Are Junk

You and your children are being hit from all sides with toy advertising. Everybody will be selling toys — grocery stores, drug stores, clothing stores, gas stations, hardware stores, party places, under the sun. Most of these people sell only 6 weeks a year — provide no service if toys refuse to work. Few of them know enough about toys to advise you about suitable toys. Most of them, "push" toys and highly advertised on TV because of the artificial desire created.

After selling toys my considered judgement is that:

1. Most highly advertised TV toys are junk — vastly overpriced to allow for TV costs and the 1/2 price sales, that still leaves their prices too high.

2. Most of these toys will not operate as shown on TV and disappoint the children who receive them.

3. Most are huge pieces of plastic that break soon after put to use.

TOYS PERFORM AN IMPORTANT FUNCTION IN THE GROWING UP PROCESS, BUT ONLY IFWISELY CHOSEN TO FIT THE CHILD BECAUSE WE SELL TOYS 52 WEEKS A YEAR

1. We have time to learn which toys are best.

2. We eliminate toys which do not perform as expected.

3. We know which toys are suitable for various children.

4. We maintain a Repair Department for trains and race cars.

5. We spend hundreds of hours choosing toys to fill our stores with toys that will help the child grow as well as have fun.

Salemen who visit all toy stores insist that we have the largest selection of toys and hobbies in this area — won't you stop in and see for yourself.

Sincerely, BILL PARKER

Hayles Mills Fans who plead with me to ask their favorite if she would ever make another picture with Peter McElroy, have the WWD magazine. Hayles Mills herself. When I repeated their messages to her she laughed and said she was pleased at their interest. She would love to make another picture with him, she said, but her family is so busy now, no doubt there will be another teaming of the two favorites.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the George Bruner family on the death of George's father. Neighbors and friends are sending their sympathy to the Senior Bruners as much as the Senior Benders as much as the Senior Hastings.

THE ORRS of Farmington Rd. have holiday guests. Mrs. Lydia Martin and Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Orr of Brookfield, Wise, are visiting them.
